To The Graduates

As you set forth from her halls, your Alma Mater says sadly to you Au Revoir, and wishes fondly for you, Bon Voyage.

Perhaps the sentiments of your Alma Mater are best expressed in these familiar words of parting and of concern for your future. It is, however, traditional that year-books should contain homilies from oldsters to youth. Those sermonic behests, it is believed, are annually received with a show of respect prompted, it may be, by the patience of long-suffering or the politeness of good breeding.

Many figures of speech are invoked for these exhortations. During the past fifteen years, I have launched graduates as ships, I have raced them down runways until they were air-borne, I have set them forth on dusty roads as pilgrims, I have fired for them the starting gun in life's race, and I have compared them to saplings. For 1950, my theme is mountain climbing.

Before I set your feet on the higher foot-hills, I express, on behalf of my colleagues and for myself, my gratitude to you for all that you have brought to us, not the least of which has been the contagious spirit of youthfulness. We have been privileged to grow younger with you as you have grown older with us. In that happy partnership, the University and all of us have been benefited.

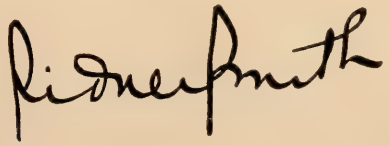
You have set for yourselves summits of attainment. You will now continue your climb. You will find the footing difficult. That will not discourage you as you realize that you must gain from difficulty experience for the higher reaches. You will be undecided on occasion about the path to follow. Yet you will not be daunted as you pause and seek the counsel of the master guides of all ages and climes whose acquaintance you made in the University. The light will sometimes be poor, yet you will be unafraid as you use the lamp of truth. You will often be alone but you will not be lonesome as you recall the abiding fellowship of those from whom you have learned. You will not suffer for long from the cold as you call on the warm friendship of class-mates. May you keep your balance as gusts of prejudice, bigotry and superstition beat upon you. May you find shelter under the Rock of Ages as avalanches of fear crash down the mountain side.

The higher you climb the harder you must strive. You will not turn back. May you never be so successful that you will stop trying. As you attain one peak you will see new ranges of achievement beckoning to you.

As I write this message on New Year's Eve at the mid-century mark, I would pray that graduates of the University of Toronto should scale during the next fifty years the mountain tops which, at a Yuletide over a century ago, Tennyson saw. Those peaks are still unoccupied.

"Ring out false pride in place and blood,
The civic slander and the spite;
Ring in the love of truth and right,
Ring in the common love of good.

Ring out old shapes of foul disease;
Ring out the narrowing lust of gold;
Ring out the thousand wars of old,
Ring in the thousand years of peace."



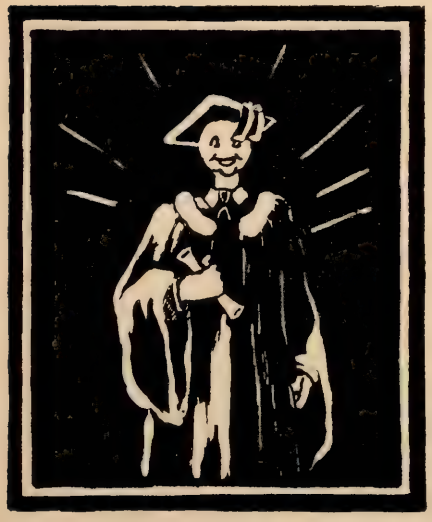
The Coat of Arms of the University of Toronto

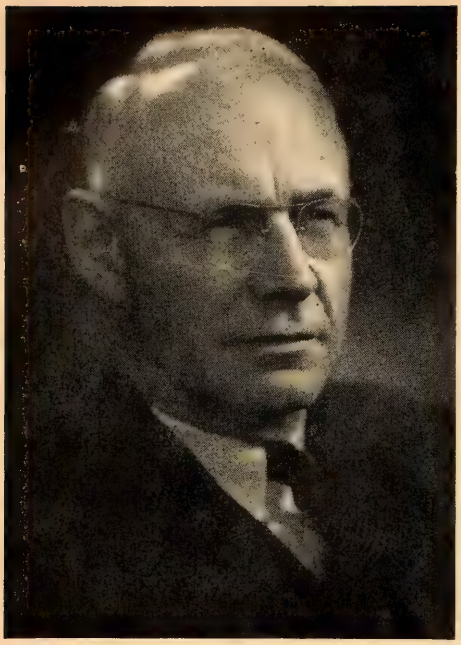
Azure two open Books and in base a Beaver all proper, upon a Chief Argent the Royal and Imperial Crown also proper, and for the crest on a wreath of the colours an Oak tree proper stemmed and fructed Or.

THE crown indicates not only that the University was founded by a Royal Charter granted by King George IV in 1827, but also that the original foundation was called King's College; the books are for learning, and the beaver, which is the emblem of Canada, is for the industry which it was hoped should always characterize the members of the University.

The Motto is taken from Horace's Odes, Book 1, No. 12, lines 45 and 46. The complete line is "Crescit occulto velut arbor aevo". Translated literally the motto would be "As a tree, may it grow through the passage of ages".

The Graduating Classes





University College

W. R. TAYLOR
M.A., Ph.D., D.D., F.R.S.C.

IT has fallen to my lot to express to you on behalf of myself and the members of the College our congratulations on the completion of your courses of study which have covered the greater number of the post-war years. As we salute you in farewell we join with our salutation the hope that you will come back to us often in memory or spirit, if circumstances do not permit you to return in person.

Graduation involves for each of you matters that to a large degree affect your personal happiness and success during the rest of the years of your life. In the University the factors which governed your progress from year to year were in a large measure of your own making or within your direct control. But now the factors that determine the course of your careers will often seem to be unaccountably stubborn, sometimes elusive, and rarely subject to your direct control. In other words, there comes into play in your life a large element of what people rightly or wrongly call luck—good luck or bad luck. But in the final analysis if we are rigorously honest, we shall admit that nine times out of ten our so-called luck lies not in our stars but in ourselves. Some strength of character, some virtue of high purpose, some quality of goodness accounts for our good luck, while timidity, vanity, indolence and want of adaptability or all of them co-mingled in various proportions account for our frustrations in life. If you read the literature of biography you note that most persons who have worth for us were not favored by good luck at the start or for that matter at any time in their careers, but they took pains early to extract success out of bad circumstances. They never surrendered the struggle to the mortifications, the disappointments, the irksome tasks of life nor to its graver and grander sorrows. They remembered and sincerely believed in the wisdom of the old proverb "Never chew your pills".

When we leave College most of us go out into the world with high resolves. We believe that the world is waiting for us; and so it is. But in the course of the years we must beware lest we part from these resolves, lest we bury them one by one until there is nothing left of the form of the person we meant to be. The saddest lines of English poetry are those of William Watson, written in retrospect:

> So on our souls the visions rise
> Of that fair life we never led:
> They flash a splendor past our eyes;
> We start, and they are fled;
> They pass and leave us with blank gaze
> Resigned to our ignoble days.

My wish for you at this time is that you may never, never part from that ideal of yourself that beckons you out into the world beyond these College walls.

A Message From The Permanent Executive

"ADMITTO TE IN GRADUM". With the benevolent intonation of these words the Chancellor will ring down the curtain on our career as undergraduates. These have been active and exciting years for us and for the whole University.

The huge enrolment and the infusion of large numbers of veterans have given rise to a period of unprecedented vigor at all levels: in the many crowded lectures, debating, Lit. and W.U.A. meetings, Hart House at noon, Whitney Hall Formals, the Follies, the Arts Ball, and all the many facets of a great University.

This year the Arts Ball and the Reed Trophy have returned to the College, an operetta has been performed, "amalgamation" has loomed and faded, and yet another student from University College has won a Rhodes Scholarship.

We have done much. Yet out of the confusing welter of activities there emerges, along with the many nostalgic memories, the quieter realization of the ideas and ideals we have encountered and evolved as undergraduates. These are the most significant gifts of the University—these we hope to retain. We must strive to apply them in our lives as our real tribute to the University and as a recognition of our indebtedness.

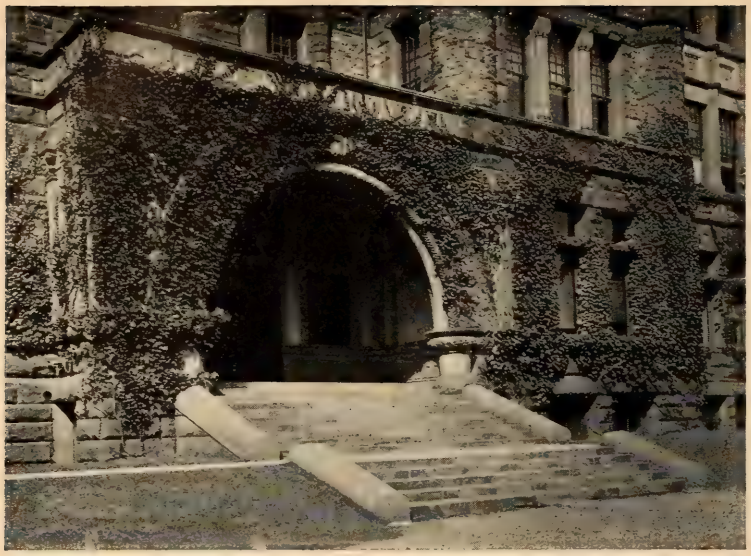
Victoria College

H. BENNETT
B.A., Ph.D.

ON behalf of the administrative officers and my colleagues in Victoria College, I should like to express to the members of the graduating class our very best wishes for happiness and success in the careers upon which they are about to enter. The first step will be, of course, to find a job which will prove rewarding, not primarily on the financial side but rather in the personal satisfaction that comes from doing well the work for which one is best equipped. Your University course, whether it has been general or specialized, has made you an educated person and as such you will be expected to show initiative, resourcefulness and good judgment not only in your personal concerns but also in the larger problems of public and social life. Eventually, many of you will be called upon to assume positions of leadership in city, church or state. I hope that none will assume an attitude of superiority or try to dominate the group in which his activities lie, but that each will give his best to whatever task he finds to do and at the same time endeavour to qualify himself for greater responsibilities as opportunities may occur.

The function of a university was recently defined as "the creation, generation by generation, in a continuous flow, of a body of men and women who share a sense of civilized values, who feel responsible for developing them, and who by the simple pressure of their existence and outlook will form and be enlightened public opinion." In spite of the difficulties caused by the post-war inflation of registration, the University of Toronto has, I believe, made a good job of fulfilling its function in respect of the Class of 1950. We shall look forward with confidence that the graduates of Victoria College will play their part worthily in the years that lie ahead.



ON THE OLD ONTARIO STRAND

FOR the first fifty-six years of its history Victoria University was located in Cobourg. The Upper Canada Academy was opened in 1836 and on October 12 of the same year the Royal Charter was granted by King William IV. In 1841 the Charter was extended to include degree-conferring powers and the name was changed to Victoria College. The first degree in Arts in Ontario was conferred by Victoria College in 1845 on Oliver Springer.

A Faculty of Medicine was added in 1854; a Faculty of Law in 1860, and a Faculty of Theology in 1871. A department of Science was organized, and Faraday Hall, opened in 1877, was the first building in the province erected and devoted exclusively to scientific work.

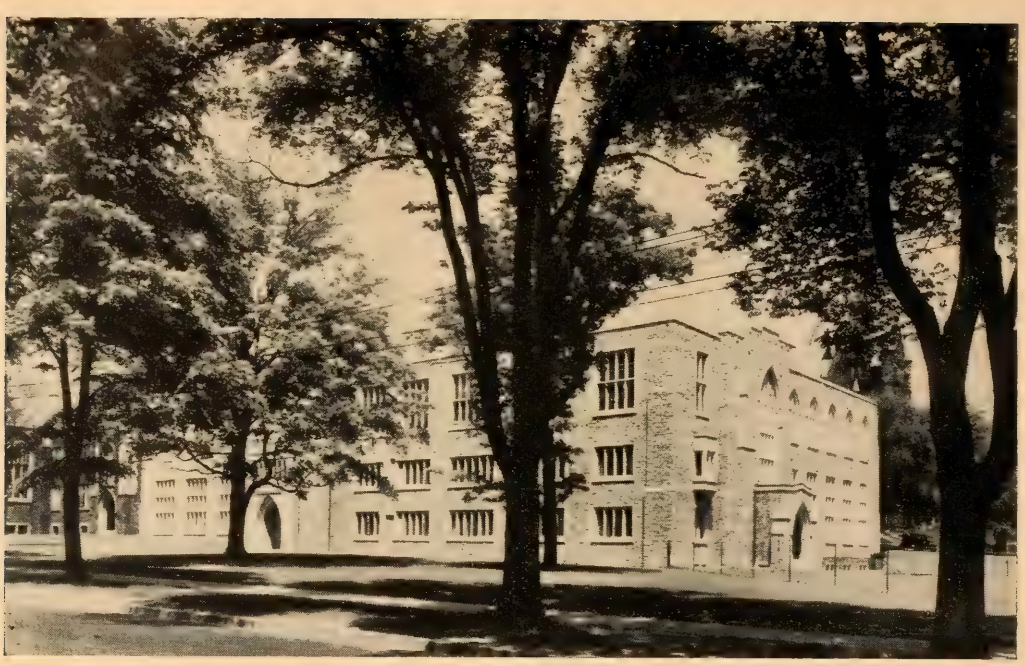
In 1884 the name was changed to Victoria University. Egerton Ryerson was responsible for securing the Royal Charter and he was the first Principal of Victoria College in 1841. In 1850 Samuel S. Nelles took charge of the College. Under his wise and far-sighted guidance the work of Victoria grew and expanded as additional faculties were added. Yet for all his foresight, it is doubtful if Principal Nelles could have imagined the proud place Victoria holds today, boasting a registration of 1,846 students, and federated with the Empire's largest University. The process of that federation and expansion we shall now trace.

FEDERATION WITH THE UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO

The federation of Victoria University with the University of Toronto became an established fact in 1892. Victoria was a pioneer in setting up the system of education by which the provincial university and three independent denominational universities and colleges have, in the course of time through their federation agreements, established the Faculty of Arts of the University of Toronto as it exists today.

Since 1892 Victoria University has conferred degrees in Divinity only and her power of conferring degrees in Arts, Medicine, Law and Science has remained in abeyance. From 1892 to 1928 the organization of Victoria University consisted in two faculties, Arts and Divinity. The task of putting university federation into operation and of moving from Cobourg to Toronto was accomplished by Chancellor Nathaneal Burwash, who had succeeded Dr. Nelles in 1887 and held office until 1913. His name is perpetuated in Burwash Hall.

During the difficult war years, and during the period of expansion in 1920-30 when there was a large increase in the number of students and when many new buildings were added, Chancellor R. P. Bowles guided the destinies of the institution.



GROWTH AND REORGANIZATION

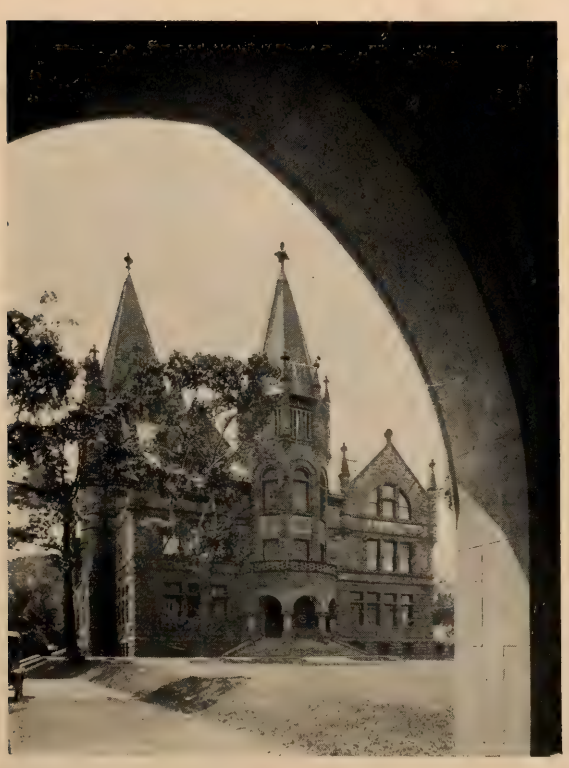
Residence accommodation was provided in Cobourg, but for the first eleven years in Toronto, Victoria had no residence for students. The Annesley Hall Women's Residence was opened in 1903. The Birge-Carnegie Library was completed in 1910. Burwash Hall and the Victoria College Men's Residences, the gift of Mr. Chester D. Massey, were opened in 1913.

In 1926 Victoria University received Wymilwood Women Students' Union and Residence, the gift of Mrs. E. R. Wood and Lady Flavelle. Emmanuel College and the Emmanuel College Men's Residences were first occupied in 1931. Victoria University now has residence accommodation for about 250 women students and about 260 men students.

Church union in 1925 affected both the work and the organization of Victoria University. The Victoria University Act of 1928 provided for two colleges, Victoria College in Arts and Emmanuel College in Divinity. In 1930 Dr. E. W. Wallace succeeded Chancellor Bowles.

IN WAR AND PEACE

In February, 1941, Principal Walter T. Brown of Victoria College was appointed Chancellor and President of Victoria University, succeeding Dr. Wallace who had resigned because of ill health. In 1944 Dr. Brown's title was changed to President and Vice-Chancellor of Victoria University.



From May, 1941, until May, 1944, a number of houses of the Men's Residences were occupied, first by members of the R.C.A.F. taking the Radio Technicians' Course, and later by members of No. 1 and No. 2 Canadian Army University Courses.

During the session 1949-50 there are 1,748 students in attendance at Victoria College and 98 in attendance at Emmanuel College. Of this number approximately 234 are ex-service men and women. On the Victoria University Roll of Service there are the names of 1,408 men and women, graduates, undergraduates, former students and members of the staff of Victoria College and Emmanuel College. Seventy-seven of these made the supreme sacrifice.

The Chancellor of Victoria University is Major-General A. C. Spencer of London, Ontario. Professor H. Bennett is Dean of Victoria College and the Rev. A. D. Matheson is Dean of Emmanuel College. In June, 1949, President Brown retired because of ill health. During the session 1949-50 Dean Bennett is Acting President and Acting Vice-Chancellor of Victoria University ⚜

REV. R. S. K. SEELEY
M.A., D.D., LL.D.

I gladly respond to the invitation to send a message to you who are graduating in 1950. It is no light task that lies before you who are entering on your life's work at this period, for there is little sense of security or stability in the world into which you are going. Yet you can start with a far greater feeling of optimism than some of your predecessors. There is something immensely challenging in a world that has to be shaped anew. There are endless possibilities in a civilization that is evolving new patterns, and there are boundless opportunities for those who have a sense of perspective in these days. We venture to believe that you have a sense of perspective. Unless our University system is altogether at fault, you have learnt during these years among us what are the things which are valuable in life. You have had the opportunity to study the cultural heritage of the ages and to learn what are the things that abide amid the changing circumstances of life. It is for this reason that you go out as marked men and women. It is not simply that you have advanced knowledge in technical skills. That may or may not be true. The fact is that you have seen in greater measure than most of your fellows what are the things that make up the richness of our civilization and what are the things that contribute to the good society in every generation. In addition to these things which you share with your fellow-graduates, you have also had the advantage of the communal life of a residential College, where so much depends upon harmonious human relationships. This will be true in larger measure of the society which you are now entering, and we trust that you will have a special contribution to make in the field of mutual understanding and cooperation. Above all, we hope that you will carry away with you an understanding of the necessity for spiritual foundations in a well-ordered society, and the knowledge that the service of man is complementary to the service of God.

We are grateful to you for the contributions which you have made, each in your own way to the corporate life of the College. Your influence will remain and we shall not be unmindful of you. You will still be one with us in the larger community of Trinity graduates, and we wish you good success in all your undertakings.

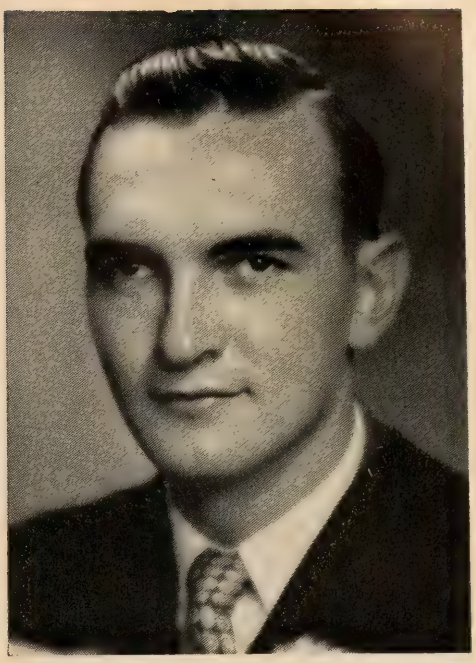
St. Michael's College

REV. FATHER L. J. BONDY

C.S.B., M.A., Ph.D.

WHEN you came to the University, we had just emerged from a conflict in which we had come very close to losing most of the human values which we hold dear. At that time we hoped that when the time came for you to graduate, you would be able to go out into a world in which you could lead a normally peaceful life. You know that such is not the case. You are going into a very anxious world. Outside that growing section of the earth where human liberty has been completely sacrificed to a false and inhuman ideal, men are caressing the dream of complete economic security together with complete political and social freedom. Poets of every century have sung this golden age but they have always been forced to situate it in a distorted past or in a nebulous future. It will not come in your day. Yet it is in your day you must live, and it will be a sheer waste of time to dream of living in a more congenial epoch. You had little to do with bringing about the present social confusion, but you will have something to do in making it better or worse. It has been the purpose of your College and your University to help you fit yourselves for a life that will be fruitful both for yourselves and for your fellowmen. Through the various subjects of your curriculum, we have tried to train your minds so that you may be better equipped to distinguish truth from falsehood, the real good from the meretricious, true beauty from that which appeals simply because man is not all he should be. Here at St. Michael's, every attempt has been made to have you realize that your God-given faith is not merely a personal quality that parallels your native talent; that, if your life is to be a success, all your ability and energy must be placed in the service of that highest gift. In a world which, to its own great loss, has so generally ruled out this very purpose of its existence, this will not be easy. The weight of numbers is very oppressive. It is also an excellent means of sifting the man of character from those who "are carried about by every wind of doctrine". Those of us who have had a share in your education will watch your performance with an interest that we could not lose even if we wanted to do so.

President's Message



DAVID J. QUIGLEY
B.A.

FOR the past 3 or 4 years we have all looked forward to graduation. To us it meant the culmination of all our undergraduate endeavours. To-day we have received our degree; the goal we sought has been achieved. Now we must go forward into the world to use the education and moral development achieved in these few years, to aid the world in its quest for a system of values, and to develop ourselves even further morally and intellectually. The wealth that St. Michael's offers so generously is ours to be spent upon ourself and upon the world in which we live. For their untiring devotion we thank the faculty of St. Michael's. They have given us the equipment for a full life as a Christian man. We shall always assume the responsibility for our deficiencies due to weakness on our part; but the faculty shall always share in our success for showing us the road to true fame.

To our friends, parents, and loved ones who have made our attendance here possible by their financial aid, their direction, their inspiration and their loyalty, we offer our heartfelt thanks. You have given us a great opportunity here at St. Michael's, and your love and devotion have been the base and the supplement of our education for life. Without you this day could never have existed, to you belongs its glory, and a share in our success in life.

The many friends we have made at St. Michael's and in the University we must now leave. In doing so there is deep regret that the companionship and the intimate brotherhood must now be ended. Through our joint experience, discussion, and friendship, we have found the value of true brotherhood. This bond will always be with us as a guide in the future, and shall always exist in the fraternity we feel for one another.

On behalf, then, of the graduating class of St. Michael's College, I offer our heartfelt gratitude to the faculty, our parents, our friends and to all those who have contributed so generously in order that this day might be the success it is.

To the graduates I offer my sincere thanks for all that you have given me. To you I extend my most sincere congratulations upon your graduation. May you always be true to yourself and to St. Michael's, and may you enjoy every success in your future undertakings.

Knox College

REV. W. W. BRYDEN
M.A., D.D.

WE have reached the middle of another century. The world of fifty years ago, with its serene optimism and its accepted securities, no longer exists. There can be no return to the complacences of former days. The catastrophic changes, wrought into the whole fabric of human life in recent years, make that impossible. We do well to remind ourselves that this claim is applicable to the Church, as it is so obviously applicable to political, economic and social formations.

If Christians have hope in this dismal and melancholy world, it is because they believe that Jesus Christ is Creator of the Universe as well as Reconciler and Redeemer of the souls of men. He is Lord of the Church, but He is also Lord of the nations and of every human relationship which may exist therein. It is indeed Christ Who has cast down and it is He alone Who is able to uplift. And His powers are not circumscribed within the laws He has fashioned for the universe, not even within the processes of Nature which He has made. In fact, these latter have proved, in our day, to be as portentous of evil as of good. What distinguishes the Christian soul from the soul of the worldly man is its never-ceasing expectancy—the powers and possibilities which exist in God far beyond man's understanding.

You are going forth from this College to be servants of God's Word—not servants of your own views about life, nor servants of public opinion. You will not, therefore, be subject to the fears, apprehensions and panics which are common to men. You dare not be subservient to the clamorous voices of self-interest, whether in State or in Church.

No preacher, if he is to continue to arouse and stimulate people, may neglect his books nor escape the most arduous study; yet, he may not be a mere echo of the thoughts of others. Indeed, if his message is to be pertinent to those he serves, there must be a constant culturing and disciplining of the heart as well as of the mind before God. Moreover, he must be a true pastor, a shepherd of souls, a healer of the wounds of men, and to be so, he will need to know his people, not in a general way, but in those concrete experiences which constitute life. May God bless and increasingly enrich your ministry.

Emmanuel College

REV. A. D. MATHESON
M.A., B.D., D.D.

TO the members of the Graduating Class of 1950 in Emmanuel College I wish to say a word of farewell.

It seems such a short time ago that you came to us as a Freshman Class. You came literally "from sea to sea"; your backgrounds were as varied. But a Power beyond that of man had drawn you to the vocation of the Christian minister: and here you were ready to undertake three years of graduate study that you might prepare yourselves for Ordination in one or other of the Conferences of our Church.

We have seen you develop in so many ways; in the several intellectual disciplines, in social relations, and in spiritual enrichment: and we are glad.

As you go out in a short time to take up your individual tasks you will soon discover that your teachers have not given you all the "answers". It has not been our intention to do so, nor could we have done so had we wished. Each one must bring the best that he is in himself to the service of the Master, Jesus Christ. In exalting Him you will find yourselves. Through witnessing to the Gospel you will enter into a richness of spiritual experience that calls you ever onward.

Hold high the shield of courage, and you will give heart to others. Press forward in the interests of the Kingdom of God, and you will be contributing also to a finer, stronger Canada. Go forth in Christ's name: and know that you are accompanied by the prayers and the high expectations of your teachers.

Wycliffe College

REV. R. ARMITAGE
M.C., M.A., D.D.

DR. TREVELYAN, Master of Trinity College, Cambridge in his autobiography recalls his undergraduate days in a descriptive line which every College might covet as its own: 'Here was friendship, here was freedom, in fullest abundance.'

Among the loyalties which grow deeper and richer with the years is the grateful affection of an alumnus for his Alma Mater.

University College and the Universtiy of Toronto will stir our hearts no matter where in Canada, or farther, we may go.

But Wycliffe, even more, is in the very web and woof of our life; for here we have been given the beginning of our training for the Ministry.

Most of us have found that our recollection and remembrance of our student days at Wycliffe grow more vivid in the passing of the years and take on something of the warmth and gratitude which we find in almost every letter written by St. Paul.

We shall come to know that our College stands for values in the life and thought of our Church which make for vigour and enrichment and that we have our part and share in this contribution to the commonweal.

This calls for "singleness of heart" as the Authorized Version would say it.

It is worth noting that this singleheartedness, this singleness of intent and purpose is in the word "sincere". They both grow out of the one root.

And it is for us to recollect and to read into it what active meaning we may that the first recorded use of the word "sincere" in English is in the line "Master Wickliffe was noted to be a man of a very sincere life."

Let us follow after with gladness and singleness of heart.

The Teaching Staff of Wycliffe College extend to the graduating class good wishes and Godspeed at this beginning of a new and far reaching stretch of the road.

Commerce and Finance

C. A. ASHLEY
B.Com., F.C.A.

YOU have completed your course in the university under adverse conditions. In spite of all our efforts to keep numbers down in the honour courses, you have been too many for us. We know only too well that you have missed a good deal of that close contact with members of the staff which is generally recognized to be of great value; which has, indeed, often been thought of as the distinctive characteristic of a university.

We believe, however, that you have encountered intellectual honesty and a disinclination to accept ready made opinions. "If a man seriously desires to live the best life that is open to him, he must learn to be critical of the tribal customs and tribal beliefs that are generally accepted among his neighbours," says Bertrand Russell. Criticism is not necessarily followed by rejection, and continued existence depends on a wide measure of acceptance of certain customs and beliefs; but a man who takes his sense of values from others, without subjecting them to searching inquiry, loses his individuality in the common herd.

The university graduate must assert his individuality; he must influence people, without necessarily making enemies in the process. We therefore expect to hear of you again, and we wish you happiness and success in your efforts.

NOW IS THE TIME — A MESSAGE TO THE CLASS OF 5TO

NOW is the time that you are leaving behind you all the years of your childhood and of your adolescence, all the years of your education and training, to emerge into the great wide world. Is it a suitable time?

I sometimes wonder if the students of fifty years ago had a feeling that they were born far too late. No worlds remained to conquer, nothing remained to be done. The great continent of North America had been explored; the last frontiers were gone; the vanishing Indian tribes could be found only on their reservations; the continent had been spanned with railways so that one could go nearly anywhere without having to endure the covered wagon hardships and perils of their forefathers. In fact, I wonder if the young men of almost every age have not felt that they had arrived just too late; nearly everything worth doing had been done; the jobs were finished.

Now is the time. Now is the time when opportunity was never greater. I submit that any appearance of completion is wholly fallacious. Now is the time to work toward the elimination of war. Now is the time to banish starvation from this world. Now is the time to strive ever more vigorously toward the abolition and conquest of disease. Now is the time when we must recognize as frontiers many, nay, all of the undesirable conditions which man has regarded in the past as part of his environment as established by Nature. Through countless ages, war, starvation and disease have been taken for granted. They were not then considered as frontiers. Today we must recognize them as challenges bigger than many of those which lay in the past; bigger than the discovery of continents, than the building of railways. Now is the time to go forth into a world, wonderful, but not yet perfect, in which there are so many things to do.

Shades of Ajax

WHY sigh ye on the name of Ajax, friend? What reason for thy visage dour, thy downcast eye, and thy strange lack of joy, tho' beer be in thy hand? Is it perchance that thou art bowed beneath the blunt-edged axe? Then comfort thee with this, that Engineers may find much fame, yet doth the fragile Fairy Queen called Ready Cash elude always their starved and futile grasp. Or has thy wench thy trust betrayed, thy best beige shorts purloined, thyself deserted . . . .?

Nay, nay! Worse still it is than that! This money-maddened, soul-starved, humour-lacking ant hill, that men choose to call a city, hems me round. Betwixt the ivy covered walls of crumbling stone, in slush and snow, the merciless days ride swiftly by, harbingers of dread April, following fast. And I think on Ajax and am sad. Were not my ears then soothed with conversation wise, and not, as now, with Artsmen's ceaseless yakking both afflicted and defiled?

Ah! and the maid of steam table three; Cartwheel Grover; the buxom habituées of the Hall of Hoof Flinging in the village! Yea, were these not as molten fire in men's veins?! Compare ye these with the pale child-maidens of the campus!

And further, are not now the nights made hideous with the anguished cries of those who must fare forth, barefooted in the snow, to traverse half the town to find a lab report to copy? A report which could, in days agone, be found across the hall? Oh traitorous Fate, which so betrays thy chosen sons, return to us our Ajax days, with worn-down shoes, all shekels spent but credit at full tide, our conversation held with men of taste like to our own, the carefree barrack jest, with the course before, fond memories behind and naught but friends on every hand. And I could put aside my weariness and win the world.⚜

School of Architecture

H. H. MADILL

O.B.E., V.D., B.A.Sc., F.R.A.I.C.

THE class of 1950 is unique in many ways. It is composed mostly of those who had been in the services and started the course in their first year at Ajax in January 1946. The Ajax Division was opened at that time to provide for the large enrollment in the Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering of which the School of Architecture was then a part.

Members of the class have contributed to the development of the School while it has gone through the "growing pains" of expansion from a school of about fifty students to a peak registration of two hundred and seventy-six. They have also contributed greatly to the establishment of the School as an independent faculty in the University organization. You have developed the Architectural Society to include a wide variety of activities in the interests of the undergraduate and the Society has demonstrated its originality and initiative in the creation of the "Train of Tomorrow" which received the Alumni Award at the Annual Varsity Homecoming Weekend in November.

1950 is a year of anniversaries. Sixty years ago instruction in architecture was first given in the University of Toronto in the newly formed Department of Architecture in the School of Practical Science. Professor C. H. C. Wright was head of the Department from its inception until he retired in 1934, and was responsible in no small measure for the development of architectural education in Canada. He was also active in the profession as a member of the Council of the Ontario Association of Architects which also celebrates its sixtieth anniversary in 1950.

We look back over this sixty year period of the profession with considerable satisfaction in what has been attained, but we have already entered on a new era, an era when new techniques and materials produce buildings which are functional in design and exciting in appearance. As future members of the profession, you will make your own contribution to the work of this era and will assess the merits of the new devices that becomes available to you. The course at the School has not supplied you with solutions to a never ending series of problems but has aimed at a method of approach in solving the problems as they come and in evaluating the merits of the works which you are inspired to produce.

You are entering the profession at a favourable time when the Services of the architect were never in greater demand. Due to the war years and the depression, the age group a few years ahead of you exists in very small numbers, so unusual opportunities will be available to you. I am sure you will measure up to these opportunities with credit to yourselves and to the School. I wish you every success.

Faculty of Medicine

J. A. MacFARLANE
O.B.E., B.A., M.B., LL.D., F.R.C.S.

THE members of the administrative and teaching staff of the Faculty extend their congratulations to you all on the occasion of your graduation in medicine. Your class came to us in the autumn of 1945. You had then returned from varied duties with the armed forces of the Crown and we have watched with particular interest your progress in the school and your contribution to the daily life and activities of the Faculty. Your teachers have not been unaware of the particular problems which face a student after a long interruption of academic life. Indeed, many of them know these problems from the experience of their own student days. You have, on the whole, surmounted such difficulties with success and you have proven yourselves to be challenging, interesting and mature students. We believe you will look back with satisfaction on the experiences gained in the services, and we are sure that such experiences will have the effect of broadening your understanding of the world and its problems. By reason of a more mature approach to individual human problems, you will be better doctors and better citizens. As you set out now in your varied careers, the continued interest and good wishes of the Faculty go with you.

School of Nursing

MISS E. K. RUSSELL

B.A., B.Paed., D.C.L.

IN 1942 this school established a four-year course leading to the Degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing. In 1946 it was decided to add a fifth year to the course, and thus all students registering in September of that year were enrolled for the new five-year curriculum. Hence, in this year of 1950, there is no regular class for graduation. However, there are four students studying under special arrangement who are completing now the requirements for the degree: this little group must represent this school among the graduating classes for this year.

To this quartet we address the present message. You know your School, its brief past and its struggling present, in both of which you have given considerable help. You are also in a good position to assess the future and here again I know you intend to give considerable help. Fortunately you understand something of the demands being laid upon your own professional group, and the community's need for leadership from young women who have had the broader educational opportunity offered by your University. Firm in this understanding, you cannot fail to give wise counsel and support. We hope the School will always have graduates upon whom we can rely so confidently. The quartet of 1950 will have a niche all its own in our historical gallery. We are grateful to you for much, and we offer you the warmest of good wishes for all your future years.

Faculty of Dentistry

R. G. ELLIS
D.D.S., M.Sc. (Dent.), F.D.S., R.C.S.

GREETINGS and felicitations to the members of the graduating classes in Dentistry. The year of your graduation, 1950, is a very significant one for you individually and for this Faculty and indeed for dental education in Canada.

The majority of you entered the University to embark upon an academic discipline, following varied experiences with the several branches of the Canadian Armed Forces. The zeal and devotion displayed by you in the defence of your country and for the preservation of personal freedom has been continually in evidence throughout your University course. The members of this Faculty have counted it a privilege to guide your studies during the past four years, and now as you graduate they wish for each one of you, complete freedom of thought in relation to your chosen profession.

The year 1950 also marks the 25th anniversary of the establishment of the Faculty of Dentistry in the University of Toronto. Thus, twenty-five years ago dental education became a fully-fledged discipline within the complex University pattern, and with the privileges conferred by this important step, certain responsibilities were assumed as well. While education in a professional science is expected to develop knowledge and skill pertaining to the particular field, a University discipline opens the door to a liberal education and the establishment of a firm basis for full living.

The year of your graduation, 1950, is equally significant when we survey the broader field of dental education in Canada. It was seventy-five years ago, namely in 1875, that organized dental education took form with the establishment of the School of Dentistry under the auspices of the Royal College of Dental Surgeons of Ontario. Since the inception of the first dental school in Ontario, a worthy tradition has been in the making and is now committed in part to you by the generations of professional men who have preceded you. Guard carefully this rich heritage, enlarge it according to your talents, so that society in the years ahead may benefit from your service, and the profession be proud of your contributions to its store of knowledge.

In conclusion may I add that as you leave these halls and familiar scenes which will be associated with your student days, the entire Faculty extends a very sincere invitation to you to return as frequently as you may find it convenient to do so. We hope that the bond of fellowship which has been established between you and your Alma Mater is strong enough to bring you back often. We can assure you a cordial and friendly welcome each time you return.

Ontario College of Pharmacy

R. O. HURST
Phm.B.

IT is always interesting and important to have a record of your college days. You have that in Torontonensis. Each student should have a copy, because in the years to come you will enjoy looking through the book and it will bring to your mind many happy associations. There will be the happy memories of the athletic struggles of your class, the success of your various class activities and above all, the uplift that each one has derived from the total experience of college life, especially the benefits of comradeship with the dozens of fine young people who were your associates.

It is possible for one to obtain a fair grasp of the essentials of pharmacy by home study, but such a student would be impoverished in many ways in comparison with the richness of the reward that a student gains by the lively contact with fellow students. The same principle will apply after your graduation. Do not walk alone. Do not hold yourself aloof from your College, your pharmaceutical associations or your neighbours in pharmacy. An intimate contact with your fellow graduates will bring to you new concepts of the importance of your responsibilities, and new opportunities for service in Pharmacy. Pharmacy needs your help, your constructive help, your enthusiasm in promoting the new frontier in pharmacy that will be manifest within the next three or four years, in which time you will observe a dramatic change in the academic instruction given to the students who follow you.

Your College is making plans to bring about the greatest change in its internal structure that has been made since the inception of pharmacy in Ontario, some seventy-five years ago. We ask you to lend your interest and help.

In the years to come you will be proud to realize that you had a chance to witness the initiation of the change, the graduation of your College course from one that is manifestly inadequate for the new demands made on pharmacy to one that will be considered to be in keeping with modern scientific trends.

Faculty of Music

SIR ERNEST MacMILLAN

B.A., D.Mus., LL.D., Mus.Doc., D. Litt.

TO have fulfilled all the requirements demanded of candidates for musical degrees is no small achievement and I am happy to add my warmest congratulations to those which the successful candidates will undoubtedly be receiving from their friends. The class of 1950 as a whole has shown enthusiasm and ability in the pursuit of musical knowledge and skill; its members have moreover taken their share in extra-curricular activities of a type that contribute much to the student's all-round development and, in some cases, to the benefit of the community in which he or she lives.

In bidding farewell and wishing God-speed to this year's graduating class, I should like to remind them that the possession of a university degree entails great responsibility. No curriculum can include everything desirable in a musician's professional equipment and the most strenuous efforts on the part of even the most gifted student leave him still facing almost infinite tasks and potentialities. May you therefore never rest on your laurels but continue your efforts to scale further heights and attain the utmost that your individual gifts will allow.⚜

Faculty of Forestry

J. W. B. SISAM
B.Sc.F., M.F.

FOR the third successive year it is possible to record that the largest class of foresters in the history of the Faculty has completed its training at this University. Much the same situation is true for the other Canadian schools and after some forty years of slow but steady growth the profession of forestry is now quite suddenly in a period of rapid expansion—so much so that the number of graduate foresters in this country will double in the course of five years.

A question of increasing importance is whether or not opportunities for professional employment are keeping pace with the supply of trained men. Up to the present conditions have been fairly satisfactory and there is no doubt as to the inherent need for many more graduates to deal adequately with our forestry problems. However with the tremendous increase in numbers during the past two years it seems probable that a period of adjustment between demand and supply will be necessary. This is a problem of the immediate future in connection with which the following points may perhaps be considered relevant.

A period of practical experience and training immediately after graduation and before assuming technical responsibilities is as important in forestry as in other professions. While some jobs that provide such experience during an apprenticeship period may not be as remunerative as others at the time, their real value is in the preparation they afford for the future. The proper development of this concept in cooperation with industry and government departments might well result in the more extensive employment of foresters and eventually in the strengthening of forestry and the forestry profession.

The progress that has been made in Canadian forestry up to the present time—and it has been considerable—has come about mainly through the efforts of the foresters themselves, individually and collectively. This must also be true of future progress. Advances can come about only if members of the profession are giving constant attention to the many problems affecting proper forestry practice, each in his own field, and together making every effort for their solution. It has taken more than one hundred years for certain European countries to attain their policy of carefully guarded and intelligently tended forests. So much the harder must we work to attain our goal in a country only now beginning to be forestry-conscious. Our first responsibilities must of course be to our respective employers but we must also all recognize certain responsibilities to our profession if we are to make our best progress.

For those of you who have a particular interest in one or other specialized field there can be a widening of opportunity through post-graduate studies. However unless conditions are exceptional it is generally agreed that at least one or two years of practical experience in the field should intervene between an undergraduate course and more advanced work. It may perhaps be said that a real interest in the subject, more than an average ability for clear and accurate thinking, and much persevering are necessary for real success in post-graduate work and in developing the opportunities that this may lead to.

Whatever may be your hopes and plans for the future, rest assured that your Faculty and your University wish you every success in a happy venture.⚜

School of Physical and Health Education

H. A. CATES
M.B.

AVE ATQUE VALE! How quickly three years go by. Yesterday, we welcomed you to the University; today we bid you God-speed. What of these three years? What have you done with them? What have they done with you? Now is the time to pause and take stock.

If your course has given you nothing but a body of information that you are now eager to use in order that you may make a living, the University has benefited you little or not at all. If, however, your vision is widened, your ability to think enhanced, your tolerance of the opinions of others increased, the University has benefited you greatly for it has taught you how to make—not merely a living—but a life.

No doubt more than one subject of the curriculum appealed to you at first as being of very little practical value, but the best things in life of course are good for nothing—nothing material that is. Perhaps by now you have begun to realize the value of the useless. If so, your chances for a contented life are great whatever material success may be yours.

As graduates of the University of Toronto you have not finished your course; you have just begun it. Your school exists to serve you after, as well as before, graduation and the more you keep us informed about the problems that confront you, the better we can adjust the course to meet growing and varying needs. Your active interest, therefore, in your School of Physical and Health Education and its Alumni Association will be to our common advantage.

We shall watch your progress with interest; we hope you will often revisit us and we wish you the happiness that comes from service. Au revoir!

School of Social Work

H. M. CASSIDY
B.A., B.C., Ph.D.

CONGRATULATIONS and Godspeed to those of you who have completed your work in the School and will soon go out to take up employment.

This has been a happy year at the School, rich in companionship and hard work, and one in which faculty and students have tried to think through together some of the basic principles of our profession. It has been all too short a year for me and yet one which has brought to all of us significant new experience, including, in my case, a stimulating professional assignment in Egypt.

Because of this, my message to you is coloured and is summed up in two thoughts. First, that our profession, young as it is, has in its hands some of the most effective forces for peace that exist. For we are concerned with the understanding of human relations, not only between individuals and groups, but between nations; and our goal is a world wide democratic society in which human values come first.

The second thought is of the great challenge to service which awaits you. The public and private social welfare programmes of our own nation are ever expanding and the needs of other countries throughout the world are acute. With the continued shortage of trained social workers, many of you will be asked to assume responsibilities which are heavy and difficult. Discouragement as well as great challenge and satisfaction await you. Most of you will remain in Canada, some in cities with relatively greater resources; others in rural districts where, although close to your community, distances are great and resources scanty. Some few of you will return to areas undergoing reconstruction in Europe or to the mass programmes of social rehabilitation being undertaken in the East. The organizations you will go to will be at different stages of development but you will have your opportunity in each to learn much yourself and to contribute something of value.

We have tried to prepare you in the School to meet this great challenge. We believe the knowledge you have gained of social policy and the skill in human relations will stand you in good stead. But these in themselves are not enough. You will need, in addition, a sound sense of values and firm convictions—an underlying social philosophy as your constant guide and in times of testing. We hope this too has been strengthened for you through your experience in the School.

We of the faculty wish you well as you go forth. We have appreciated your vigorous, responsible and co-operative attitude throughout the year. We want you to keep in touch with the School and to let us know where your training has helped you and where it has fallen short. In this way we can still go forward together, keeping our teaching geared to the needs of the community and helping to build together that democratic world in which we all believe.

University Extension

W. J. DUNLOP

B.A., B.Paed., LL.D., F.C.I.

IF all goes well, there should be this year almost 50 graduates in the Pass Course for Teachers; these graduates are, for the most part teachers who are now completing a course exactly parallel to the Pass Course in Arts, except that their course offers fewer options. These graduates have attended lectures in the evenings or in the Summer Session and it has taken them longer to finish the course than it takes undergraduates who attend in the daytime; but the prescription of work in each subject is the same in their course as it is in the Pass Course in Arts; they listen to the same Professors; and they write the same examinations. The great majority of them take a high standing throughout the Course.

Graduates in Occupational Therapy and in Physical Therapy have attended lectures and laboratory classes for three academic years. For those who are graduating as Therapists there is no worry about obtaining positions; two or three positions are waiting for each one of them. When these Courses were established in 1926 and in 1929, respectively, it was the hope that they would soon be transferred to the Faculty of Medicine. Next year this hope will be realized and those who are now in the First and the Second Years will, commencing next September, be students in the Faculty of Medicine of this University. These two Courses have provided excellent careers for young women and will continue to do so.

Then there is the Course in Institutional Management, a two-year Course leading to a Certificate. Those who graduate in this Course are trained to manage, or to assist in managing, summer hotels, tourist resorts, tourist camps, restaurants, all-year hotels, clubs, and similar institutions. Of course, they have studied academic subjects as well, such as English and History. These graduates will take their places in Canada's second largest industry.

In the Department of University Extension there is still another Course, known as the Certificate Course in Business, the instruction in which is given entirely in the evenings and continues for three sessions. And there is a Course in Radiography, in which X-Ray technicians are trained but there are, as yet, no graduates in this new course.

The above listing of extension courses has not included the many courses which do not lead to any certificate, diploma, or degree within the University. Many thousands of adult men and women study during the winter in evening classes in adacemic and business subjects and some thousands take correspondence courses which are conducted for business organizations, while a few hundred take short courses in Public Safety and in Social Work. All these seek knowledge for its own sake and for the improved status which such knowledge gives them.

But the purpose of this message of mine is to extend my best wishes for abundant success to those who, in May or June of 1950, are awarded the degrees or the diplomas or the certificates for which they have worked well and faithfully. May I remind them that the University of Toronto has given them an opportunity to prepare for public service in the right sense, to be citizens of the right type; and may I ask them to remember their Alma Mater as they go out into the world and to use their influence to mould public opinion in favour of this great University which is striving to render the very best of service to its constituency and which has become, in fact if not in name, the National University of Canada.

Occupational Therapy

MISS H. P. LEVESCONTE

IT was indeed opportune that, on the twenty-first anniversary of the graduation of the first class in the Course in Occupational Therapy, the announcement was made that in 1950 the Courses in Occupational Therapy and Physical Therapy would be taken over by the Faculty of Medicine. This was the realization of what had long been the hope of the profession.

To the Department of University Extension we shall always have a deep gratitude, not only for the actual establishment of the Course in Occupational Therapy within the University, but for the opportunity it has given us to develop our professional training.

Our Course has set and maintained a high standard of professional training throughout the years. It was among the first small group of training courses to be accredited on this continent by the American Medical Association. Our graduates have been sought, and have served both here and abroad in hospitals and in the development of training centres of Occupational Therapy. In this day of increased emphasis on the wider concept of the rehabilitation of the sick or injured, it is of interest to you to know that it was from your predecessors that therapists were chosen to play an active part in such pioneer rehabilitation centres as the Glen Eagles Miners' Rehabilitation Centre in Scotland, now located at Bridge of Earn, to mention one only of such projects.

To you our graduates of 1950, we, your instructors extend our warmest wishes for your success. We have recognized in you, throughout your training, a sincerity of interest, an eagerness to learn, and a wholesome group spirit which have made you a joy to work with. These are the qualities which will insure your own success, and the success of the profession which you are about to enter.

Expanding and changing fields lie ahead of you. Your professional opportunities are wider and more challenging than ever before. It is with genuine regret that we say good-bye to you as students. It is with equally genuine pleasure that we welcome you as occupational therapists who will make your contribution to the profession of the future.

Physical Therapy

MISS L. POLLARD

DURING these last few years, we thought that the evolution of your training in Physical Therapy had reached a high standard of development; but further goals have been put before us, with the stimulation of new ideas.

In the autumn of 1950 the course leaves, with regret, the kindly administration of the Extension Department, which has looked after its welfare so many years. Now that Physical Medicine has become a recognized branch of modern medicine, the training of the therapists in this field, is being undertaken by the Faculty of Medicine. Physical Medicine included both Physical and Occupational Therapy, so these two courses, both concerned with the restoration of the sick and injured to full function, will, in future, be integrated into one whole, to the advantage of both.

So, you who graduate in Physical Therapy this year, enter the field of Physical Medicine as specialists in your branch. The need for your help is great, and you will be eagerly welcomed by your colleagues who are anxiously awaiting reinforcements. There are new departments to be opened up, existing departments to be expanded, new fields of endeavour for all of us. We know that you are going out into the world with open and enquiring minds, and with a sense of service to your fellow men.

It is with regret that we say goodbye to you, after three happy years, and we, the staff, would like to say how much we have appreciated your cheerful, willing co-operation within the course, and your public spirited activities within the University. We know that you will carry this spirit with you into the careers you are just starting, and our very best wishes go with you.

Institutional Management

S. F. CORK
B.A.

THE Class of 1950 is the first of the Institutional Management classes composed for the most part of non-veterans, and your presence has given assurance that the Course is supplying a need and will continue. Most of you are younger than those in the preceding classes, but you have well maintained the standard set by them, and have initiated activities of your own. You are to be congratulated for a successful year.

For most of you, your departure from the University marks the commencement of a new way of life, but it should not mean that you have ceased to study. Success will be more sure if you will continue to improve by well chosen reading, by observation, and by intelligent action. Do not be too impatient to advance rapidly, but be prepared for your chance when it comes.

This is being written at the dawn of a new half century. Many of you will see the year 2000. What will befall this old world during these fifty years? God grant that catastrophes such as marred the first half of this century may be avoided. In this endeavour you can do your part, small as it may seem to you as individuals. Difficulties between nations arise through ignorance and misunderstanding, and travel between countries can be an important factor in promoting better international relationships. As hosts, you have an opportunity of sharing in the cultivation of friendliness towards our guests from other lands.

The Supervisor and Staff extend best wishes for your success. We would be happy to be of assistance to you at any time.⚜

The Students' Administrative Council

ENTRANCE into a new half-century seemed to be a challenge to the Students' Administrative Council and its Committees, and 1949-50 was a year of both action and progress. It will also be remembered with a chuckle by Council members whenever "bulletin boards" or "tympani—with wheels" or even "student apathy" are mentioned.

The text book brief presented to the Board of Governors in '48-49 bore fruit in the 10% discount allowed on text books by the University Book Store, and it also precipitated a minor battle with certain publishers of which the reprecussions are still being felt on University campi across Canada.

Two students from Northern Ontario are now in the University by reason of the Council's Entrance Scholarship, and one D.P. student has been financed by the Council.

Possibly because of the change in the date of the N.F.C.U.S. Conference from Christmas to September, that Committee put in a particularly constructive year. Textbook costs, student exchange and travel, a summer seminar in Quebec and I.U.S. affiliation were only some of the matters dealt with. The exchange "Carabin Weekends" were most efficiently organized by the combined efforts of the I.S.S. and N.F.C.U.S. Committees, with the Council subsidizing the cost of forty fares to Montreal.

The two year old Blue and White Society again took on its task of developing an "All-Varsity spirit" and met with great success in all its efforts—particularly student participation in the Home-Coming and support of the football and hockey teams.

One new and highly successful venture sponsored by the Student Service Commission was the Book Exchange. The Commission also organized the campaign for the Community Chest including the Red Feather Fair and Tag Day and raised well over $2000.

In addition to the Orchestra and Chorus, the Music Committee this year sponsored the Carnegie Record Collection, which was moved to the Mechanical Building with recitals each afternoon. A new University Song Book is also being compiled. The Debating Union this year joined with Hart House in arranging an American tour and also organized the regular intercollegiate debates. The All-Varsity Revue was once more a great success and played a week at Hart House to a packed House.

The Student Memorial Union Committee had a year of ups and downs, finally ending with a definite hope that the Union may become a reality in a building to be built south of Hart House and linked with it. The new Caput-Council Liaison Committee had its first meetings during the year and served as a clearing house for various problems of administration.

The Publications Committee weathered a small storm regarding Varsity advertising policy when the air was cleared by the application of common sense on both sides. The Finance Committee had a very difficult year because of increased costs and decreased income, but managed to come through without showing too great a deficit. One major undertaking was the preparation of a brief showing the need for an increased Council fee, which is now under consideration by the Board of Governors.

The Council was fortunate this year in the selection of all its officers and Chairmen. Each person fulfilled his or her job in the ablest possible manner. A special word of appreciation should go to the President, Bob Hetherington, for his wise leadership and careful attention to all phases of Council activity; to the Chairman, Mr. Carman Guild for the manner in which he handled Council sessions in the best parliamentary tradition; and to Professors Knox and Shore who suffered through many lengthy meetings and offered wise counsel when needed.

University College Literary and Athletic Society

THIS year the Lit was faced with a decreased enrolment and an unprecedented budget problem, yet, rather than adopt a policy of status quo, the spirit of enterprise was given free rein and in spite of difficulties, worthwhile advances were made.

For the first time in many years University College has had a full scale Freshman Reception lasting a full glorious week-end! Another first was the Arts Ball, held within the College this year; a great co-operative undertaking, it proved an outstanding success. The Follies remained the best campus musical-comedy, and the Red and White Nites saw the Women's Union overflowing.

On gymnasium and parliamentary floor alike, Lit members have enjoyed notable success. U.C. teams gained inter-faculty laurels in lacrosse, track and basketball, while products of the U.C. Parliament and the Robinette Debates have shone in Hart House and intercollegiate debates. The Undergrad was published twice this year and the quality of literary material profited in the reduction of issues.

The Open Meetings re-consolidated their reputation of dissent, debate and dichotomy! From amalgamation to budgetary problems, the Lit has led the way for the whole University in politics and policy.

In this year of noteworthy achievements and unmitigated failures, the Lit has, however, laid the foundations in a critical period of the College's history upon which succeeding members can build with confidence.

University College Women's Undergraduate Association

THE Women's Undergraduate Association is the official organization of the women undergraduates of the College. It plans all the activities which solely concern the women, and works jointly with the University College Literary and Athletic Society in such events as the First Year Barn Dance, the Follies, and Arts Ball, and Red and White Nights.

This year its first activity was the Freshie House party, planned to acquaint the freshies with the College and the people in it. Throughout the year there are W.U.A. open meetings at which all the students have a chance to find out what is going on, and to make suggestions to the executive. Many students took part in the Dean's Christmas Party for the children of the faculty. The U.C. Singers provided the choral background for the pageant of the Christmas Story. On the next evening the yearly party for the University Settlement was a great success, especially "Santa Claus". After Christmas the Portia Debates began, with a large number of "orators". The winners debated against the winners of the Robinette debates at the last Red and White night of the year, at which election results for the coming year were also announced.

Women graduating this year will remember many things—the Players' Guild, "Red Mill" produced by the Music Club, the Undergrad, the Arts Ball, the Grad Banquet and all the other events that made their last year at University College unforgettable.

Victoria College Union

FOUR years ago, in the light of greater enrolment and changing conditions, the Victoria College Union began to improve and change face. This year we have witnessed the extension of that process in the establishment of a Vic Show, rebirth of the Bob, a new, revitalized Acta Victoriana and the stabilization of the Constitution. This has been due largely to the efforts and influence of the Victoria College Union Assembly representing all the clubs, years and societies in the College.

In its second complete year of operation the Assembly has carried the weighty burdens implicit in the governing of 1745 students. It is to be hoped that the flexibility and continuity provided by this student forum will lead to future improvements; for, while recommendations, decisions and findings of investigation committees this year have laid the basis for greater utilization of student capacity and interest, the problems of apathy and overlapping fields of activity will continue as challenges in the future. Many of the organizations within the College have failed to meet the demands of the students or even to bend themselves in such a direction. In the coming years the Assembly and the V.C.U. Executive must strive to adapt and mould the organization until general student interest and participation is in equilibrium with the benefits of responsibility and fellowship that is potential in the student government within a University.

Such ideals are lofty. However, ideals are like the stars . . . we may never reach them, but like the mariners of the sea, we chart our course by them.

Trinity College Board of Stewards

TRINITY life is undergoing an examination. For ninety-eight years a distinctive atmosphere has been the source and product of her peculiar institutions. Such a colourful and impressive past gives to the present, and promises to the future, a rich inheritance. As this year began one wondered whether Trinity would be content to live on the accumulations of her former days, to glory in her past accomplishments, and to smile complacently when glancing at the impressive structure which housed her life. Whereas apathy has caused many of the University's institutions to wane, at Trinity the result has been a movement toward the examination of "the given", the abolition of the useless or dangerous, and a new emphasis on the worthwhile and valuable.

Hence:

EPISKOPON was handed over in part to the College Meeting and Board of Stewards. After long periods of deliberation we handed it back to the Scribe (where it belongs—we think). Since the Editor of "Salterrae" was dropped from the Board, having never been appointed, he returned this year—with constitutional sanction. The Cake-Fight, which caused one sophomore to turn red, will in future years be replaced by an inter-year "Rugger Match" with the hope that injuries will be less spectacular. The social events of the College this year have been extremely enjoyable. The Men of College are planning to have a Trinity Christian Mission to be conducted by the Provost during Lent. College Meetings have been better attended this year—indicative of something.

St. Michael's College Students' Administrative Council

THE Students' Administrative Council of 1949-50 ably guided the many clubs and activities at St. Michael's College. To the wide variety of societies were added a Choral Society and a Writers' Guild this year. The Trireme, with a new editorial policy and The Mike, which became a full fledged newsweekly, were widely read.

Two new officers were created on the Council: a professional representative chosen from among the resident professional students, and a Vice-President, now distinct from the Fourth year representative, who is the functioning head of St. Michael's College. This enables the President, who remains the responsible agent, to spend more time in furthering St. Michael's interest in university affairs. The float parade, the renewed interest in I.S.S. and N.F.C.U.S. and the ready response of St. Michael's to back the University on book discounts are results of the President's efforts.

In the field of athletics St. Michael's representatives were on every university team and the intramural squads did well. The track team won its third straight indoor championship, while the hockey team won the Jennings Cup and the basketball team, the Sifton cup.

The popular monthly dances were enlivened by the St. Michael's Octet and a new P. A. set. Other successful events of the year were the Christmas Dance, the "At-Home" and the Arts Banquet. With a firmer financial basis, the constitutional changes and the precedent of a year of splendid co-operation, next year's Council should look forward to an even better year.

Loretto College - St. Joseph's College Joint Council

THE Joint Executive Council of St. Michael's College women was formed in 1949 as a unifying link between Loretto and St. Joseph's, the two women's colleges of St. Michael's. The council is made up of the senior members of the St. Joseph's and Loretto's S.A.C., although its president is separate from either college council. She, as a representative to the University S.A.C., is responsible to the body of St. Michael's College women as a whole.

This Joint Executive Council deals with those matters which concern the students of both Loretto and St. Joseph's, while those which pertain to only one college or the other are handled by the S.A.C. of the college concerned.

Emmanuel College Students' Society

THE Emmanuel College Students' Society is indeed fortunate in having its weekly meetings scheduled on the regular timetable at a time when all students can attend. This fact indicates how important the Society is to the student body.

It is here that students obtain training for the work which they will have to do on boards, committees, presbytery and conference meetings. During this year attention has been given to parliamentary procedure; and while most of us have become at least slightly confused when there is a division of the house over an amendment to an amendment, our knowledge of the conduct of meetings has been greatly increased.

All this experience in correct procedure comes as we discuss and plan the various aspects of our College activities. In the fall the worship committee with the staff, planned a retreat which deepened our Christian fellowship and enriched us individually.

Our planning involved more than our own concerns however. Under the direction of the missionary committee, students have been sent to speak to Young People's conference rallies, to churches in Toronto and London.

Freshmen Frantics, the Buddy Banquet, musicales and the general good humour prevailing at all meetings have done much to create a feeling of comradeship throughout the college.

Wycliffe College Literary Society

THE students rise, the speaker takes the chair and after a few words of opening, the Wycliffe Literary Society is once again in full session. "Business from the cabinet" is the signal for Prime Minister Morden to take the floor and launch out into some new project of the Radical-Conservative Party. Discipline, socials, house-debates and other forms of student activity all alike come before the critical eye of the student body. His Majesty's Loyal Opposition provides an active and penetrating stimulus to good government with its scathing sarcasm and constructive criticism.

Well, rough seas make good captains, it is said, and this year's government was no exception. In the face of an energetic opposition the cabinet developed an almost unprecedented efficiency. The interested support and friendly counsel given by our Senior student, himself an experienced "Lit" member, went far in making this efficiency possible—many thanks to Governor-General Stackhouse.

The common room is empty now but I seem to hear those familiar voices and the roof still echoes dimly with cries of "Here! Here!" ⚜

Physical and Health Education Undergraduate Association

THE School of Physical and Health Education Undergraduate Association, of which all P.H.E. students are members, completed another very successful year under the able leadership of George Nick.

The year was packed with activities such as the Opening Get-Together, in which the freshmen got to know each other and also the students in the other years; the "year" dances that were held frequently and to which all the students were invited; the open meetings at which prominent physical educationists talked; and the annual At-Home, which was held at the Boulevard Club and was a great success.

The annual show "Health's A'Poppin" was presented in February and was very enthusiastically received by capacity houses. The show provided an opportunity for the students to work co-operatively in a common endeavour and 150 out of the 190 students in the course participated.

The students were very active in the various intramural and intercollegiate sports once again, and kept up their high level of ability and sportsmanship.

These combined activities have provided certain essential qualities that each student should receive from his or her University education.

To the incoming executive, we extend the sincerest wishes for the 1950-51 season. To our fellow classmates who will scatter across the country—we wish health, happiness, and success.

Engineering Society

'TIS spring again and with pen and platitude in hand, we set forth to outline briefly the many activities and operations of the Engineering Society. Briefly, aye, there's the rub. To encompass the myriad activities which issue forth from the sacred precincts of the Red Schoolhouse in four hundred words presents all the problems of a man writing "Gone With the Wind" on a small sized pinhead.

The major problem was rather a paradoxical one since it saw retrenchment in financial policy coinciding with expansion to accommodate the increased numbers using the single store following the close of the Ajax Annex.

Decreased enrolments brought the need for an "austerity programme" which would maintain the high standard of Skule functions without undue lavishness. As a result the subsidies required for the three major events, the At-Home, Skule Nite and Skule Dinner, were greatly reduced from the previous year without affecting the success of the functions themselves.

Engineering Society

A decreased budget meant an increase in ideas, enthusiasm, and plain hard work, and these requirements were met by the boys in the Back Room. In this confined space back of the stores between props and instruments of the "L.G.M.B.", ideas are born to be seized upon with enthusiasm or to gather dust on the floor. One day it is mustaches for the Mulock Cup final, another day Engineers' caps for the Chariot Race, or on a higher plane, stacks of quarters for the Sick Children's Hospital. Programmes for the School-At-Home, props for Skule Nite, publicity for School Dinner, and puns for the School Auction, all from this 15 x 20 mine.

And yet there is more, for within these confines can be found the editorial offices of both the Toike Oike and Transactions and Year Book, devoted to the task of publicizing the day-to-day activities of the Society and chronicling the year's events for inclusion in the memory portion of that reference library every engineer should have.

Still others brave the torrent of activity in this little room, for the Year and Club Executives base their many operations here. From club stag to Grandiose Grad Ball, from field trip to General Meeting, all emanate from this enclosure.

In conclusion, a heartfelt thanks to the denizens of the Back Room for having spearheaded a very successful year with the support of a cooperative student body. Best wishes to John Folinsbee and the rest of the new tenants of the Back Room.

S.P.S. Permanent Executive

IT will be the aim of the Graduate Executive of the Class of 5T0 to keep alive the spirit of co-operation which has been so prevalent during the past four years. An attempt will be made to draw up some form of constitution to replace the members of the Executive who by means of distant positions are not able to carry on their previous assignments. By means of Club functions and annual year dinners, stags and reunions it is hoped that an interest may be maintained in the year 5T0. It is hoped that at some later date the members of the year may be able to set up some form of award to future students such as the Second Mile Award of the Class of 3T5. In this way they will keep the memory of 5T0 ever at the top of School years.

H. B. Davis, President; W. C. Diakow, Vice-President; T. M. Burke, Secretary-Treasurer; W. A. Firstbrook, Athletic Representative.

S.P.S. Fourth Year Executive

IN the far distant future when erudite historians undertake to assess the shadowy past, they will select the most important happening of each decade or era and attempt to show the effect which it had on the following generations. In our time, we can say without fear of possible contradiction, that the greatest single event will be recorded as the founding of that worthy body of courtiers and musicians (?), The Lady Godiva Memorial Band with Auxiliary Chowder and Marching Society.

Under the aegis of the Director of Kultural Activities, Paul La Prairie, and led by the distinguished conductor, Captain Thomas Kenny, this aggregation has assaulted the acoustical apparatus of the entire University with a high degree of success. That they will have started a tradition at Skule, as well as having set the cause of music back three centuries, goes without saying.

Many other remarkable events have occurred in this last year of trial (and the odd error); not the least of which was the succession to the throne of a new Skule Cannon complete with wheels. This redoubtable piece of ordnance follows a worthy ancestry in becoming the defender of the little Red School House and the scourge of the campus; and repercussions of its percussion will be felt at the very Council Tables of the Artsmen; yea, even unto the U.C. Lit.

However, lest we forget, let it not be said that the year was entirely cultural, for there was a certain amount of social activity. Besides supplying the largest percentage of the numbers at the various Society functions, 5T0 also had two very fine dances excluding the Grad Ball, of which more is in its own section.

Both affairs were held at the Palace Pier since it proved a very congenial atmosphere in which to relax from the strain of booklarnin'. Ellis McLintock's band was engaged for both occasions with additional entertainment by Mildred Morey and Larry Foster. The latter was very good and his impersonations gave all of the advantages of many of the big names at a fraction of their cost, for which the executive is truly thankful.

The year has been a successful one from all aspects (including the academic, said he hopefully), and I should like to thank the other members of the Class Executive for their unstinting efforts and all the members of 5T0 for the fine cooperation we have received in making this year a memorable one.

Architectural Society

TWO years have now passed since Skule broke away from Architecture, leaving the Engineers alone to face an unruly campus teeming with enterprising Meds and tentative Artsmen.

Seeking neither to hide behind Skule's burly bastions, nor to bask in reflected glory, architects continue to enjoy friendly relations with engineers and the traditional forty beers, contributing coeds to Skule's attractive chorus line, designing sets and decorations, patronizing Engineering Stores and participating in the Graduation Dinner.

Architects represent only a small fraction of the total enrolment at the University. We have found, however, that the smaller college or faculty enjoys compensating advantages and through an active society the architects are contributing to the undergraduate life of the University to an ever increasing degree. Through exhibitions and the sponsoring of eminent speakers, participation in Varsity affairs at all levels, including sports, Fun Fairs, Homecoming Week-ends, Hart House, Caledon Hills, S.A.C. and Chairmanship of the proposed student Union, architects are more active than ever before. This increased activity is a healthy sign. Modern architecture is vitally interested in the community life and our increasing extra-curricular activities provide a basic training for more useful participation in public life on graduation.

Medical Women's Undergraduate and Athletic Association

THE Medical Women's Undergraduate Association has had a successful year under the leadership of Dorothy Stillwell. The opening fall event was a banquet in honour of the girls entering the freshman year. Dr. Marjory Davis was the guest speaker.

Many of the members of the Association took active parts in Daffydil Nite, and a musical and talent evening was held in January at which the Undergraduate women exhibited their skills on the piano, violin and accordian.

At a forum in February, various fields in Medicine open for women were dicussed by women specialists. In the spring a forum was held to honour the eight women in the graduating class.

The Medical Women's Athletic Association has had an outstanding year with Joan Fletcher in charge. The baseball team played two playoff games in Hart House and finished third in the Interfaculty tilt. Although the Volleyball team copped no honours, the hockey team was outstanding. In January a Splash party was held for swimming enthusiasts. The Athletic Association closed the year with a banquet at which awards were presented.

Both Associations worked together to make their activities of interest to all women in Medicine.

Dentistry Students' Parliament

THE outstanding fact about 1949-50 from the students' standpoint has been that this year's graduating class is the largest since 1923. In addition to the outstanding number in their class, they have demonstrated a mature judgement and diversified enthusiasm in sports, social events, and a host of other student activities. The student body will miss this large nucleus but they have our best wishes and confidence that they will take to their respective practices a keen interest in both the health of the people and the healthy conduct of their community affairs.

Along with the planning of a well-rounded and highly successful programme of student activities, the Cabinet also completed the large scale amendment of the Constitution of the Students' Parliament, which was commenced by last year's Cabinet, in order that the Constitution might be in step with the changes and progress made over the years in both Faculty and University.

With the large number of students in the Faculty this year creating a strain on teaching facilities and space, our thanks and very best wishes go to Dean Ellis, the Faculty, and Staff, for their magnificent job of organization and the extra effort they so willingly made in order that each of us might have a fruitful and fully rounded year.

School of Social Work Executive

SOCIAL work is designed primarily and directly to conserve, to protect and to improve human well-being. The major areas of concentration include child and family welfare, medical and psychiatric social work, delinquency control, recreation and informal education, community organization, administration and research.

The students at the School of Social Work have their own Association which acts as a liaison between student and faculty, between student-body and community, as well as fostering greater unity among the student themselves.

Through the Curriculum Committee the students express their views on the present curriculum and possible modifications. The Personnel Standards Committee works towards securing better conditions of employment in the field. The Wednesday Afternoon Lecture Series is sponsored by the Activities Committee in co-operation with the faculty. These lectures cover topics of broad social concern and are open to all. The interrelationship between social work and other fields is strengthened through the Public Relations Committee. For the first time the School has entered the intra-mural sports league with several victories to its credit. Social activities are by no means overlooked and many informal parties, teas, and dances were held.

By participation in the programme of the School of Social Work—classes, field work and Student Association activities—students are well prepared to take their place in the social work profession.

Physical Therapy Undergraduate Executive

WITH the combined efforts of the students of each of the three years, we have completed another full and happy year in Physical Therapy. As in few other courses on the campus, we are a small enough group to allow our friendships to reach into all corners of each year's class. This provides a spirited atmosphere for undergraduate activities.

Our social activities began on Registration Day with a freshman reception. From then on we tried to strike a balance between studies and extra-curricular activities. There were class parties, bridge and dancing, but the highlight of the year was our very successful, annual At-Home.

Physical Therapy had teams participating in many intra-mural sports, such as swimming, tennis, basketball, volleyball and hockey. In 1948 our first athletic banquet was held and we hope to continue it as an annual affair.

The new three-year combined Physio-O.T. course will begin next September. We wish the staff and students every success in this new enterprise and hope that the same spirit will prevail that we have enjoyed during our past three years.

Occupational Therapy Undergraduate Association

At the close of the 1949-50 year, the role of Occupational Therapy in numerous campus activities is one of which each member of the course may be justly proud.

The transformation of Occupational Therapy from almost an nonenity to a recognized campus participant is largely due to the efforts of the Undergraduate Association. Consisting of all students registered in Occupational Therapy at the University of Toronto, the Undergraduate Association holds monthly meetings. Formed over ten years ago, its aims are: to promote fellowship among students of all years of the course; to further such enterprises as might from time to time present themselves, making it possible for the undergraduates to enjoy university life to the full.

The members of the graduating class, perhaps more than any others, appreciate the part the association has played in their university life. Graduates will long remember the "Freshie-Tea" which introduced them to the University; the seniors who helped them over the "rough spots"; the hilarious initiation; the association's monthly meetings—especially the supper meetings (meat pies again?); the struggle to make up athletic teams and the encouraging success of the basketball team this year; the part played in the Feather Fair; the Homecoming Week-End; and the At-Home, the social highlight of the year.

For all these and many other things, the 5T0 class says "thank you" to the Executive and to the Social and Athletic committees, and express the hope that succeeding students will support their association wholeheartedly and make it a force on the campus.

Institutional Management Undergraduate Society

THIS year, our Undergraduate Society has stressed cooperation between First and Second Years. With this in mind, the social committee, ably directed by Bill Leach, has proved most successful. All its activities, from the big weiner roast in the fall to the very delightful "At Home" in the spring, have displayed exceptional spirit and teamwork.

The cooperation of the two years was largely due to the First Year's President, "Mac" McKay. Mr. McKay also doubled as hockey coach bringing us a group championship. Athletics, under Bernie Causton, once more expanded and improved. Next year we shall expect even greater achievements.

Pat Millar, Publicity Chairman, and Women's Association President, and the ever-busy Marg. Collie, Torontonensis representative, must be mentioned for their contributions. Unfortunately, space will not permit mentioning all those responsible for our successful year. Outside of the Undergraduate Society we must thank Pete Tobias and Ian MacKay for all their efforts, particularly, in the quest for our own year book. Bouquets must go to Jane Macauley and Bill Goodrich, of the first year, for all their thoughtful aid in our many functions.

Financially, our year showed much improvement, and June Buist, our hard working Treasurer, must be mentioned under this category.

A GROUP LISTENING TO THE DAILY RECORD HOUR OF THE CARNEGIE RECORD COLLECTION.

Carnegie Record Collection

THIS valuable collection of records has unfortunately not been heard in the past few years, owing to the lack of adequate room and facilities. However, this year through the kind interest of Professor Allcut, the Staff Common Room in the new Mechanics Building was made available and the collection has a permanent home once more.

Programmes were heard there each weekday, directed by the Curator, Bill Marwick. The collection of 640 records, consists of a variety of classical compositions which are representative rather than selective. Many of the records are now collectors' items, and are not available elsewhere. It is the hope of the S.A.C. Music Committee to gradually extend the collection to include composers who have come to the fore during the ten years since the collection was given to the University by the Carnegie Institute. It is hoped also that, in time, a library of recordings by Canadian composers may be built up.

University of Toronto Symphony Orchestra and Mixed Chorus

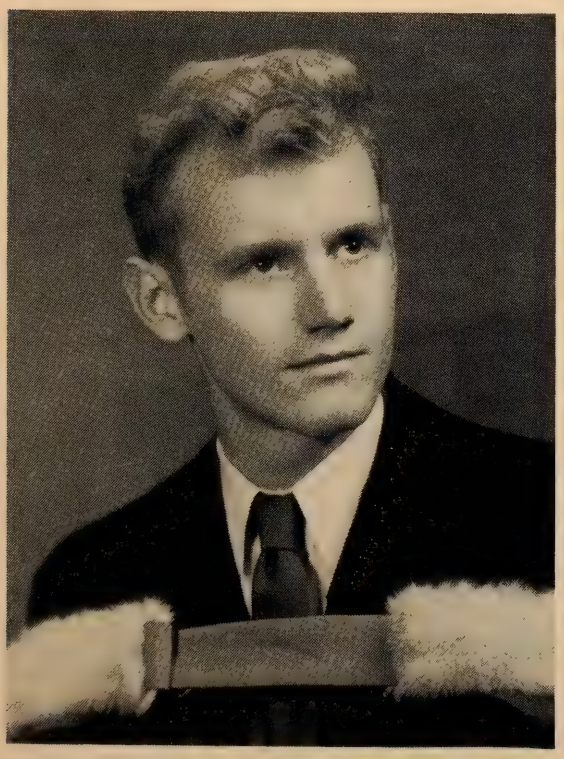
THE University Symphony Orchestra and the All-Varsity Mixed Chorus completed another most successful season. This year, they were conducted by Lee Hepner, who had been their assistant conductor during '48 and '49. During last summer, Mr. Hepner conducted the Edmonton Philharmonic Orchestra in its Pop Concert Series, and then returned to conduct the University Orchestra and Chorus in a series of ambitious works.

The first concert was held in December, and the programme included the Cesar Franck Symphony in D Minor, three selections from the Damnation of Faust by Berlioz, and the Poloversian Dances from Prince Igor by Borodin. The latter work was presented by both the Orchestra and Chorus.

Before Christmas, about forty members of the chorus chartered a bus, and visited several hospitals and homes to sing carols. Their performance was greatly appreciated and enjoyed.

LEE HEPNER
Conductor

The next concert was presented in March, and included the major work of the year, the Haydn oratorio "Creation" parts 1 and 2. The soloists were Donna-Gail Richards, soprano; Joseph Ward, tenor; and James Beer, bass. The Chorus and orchestra were praised by critics for their oratorical mood and technique, and for their control in performing with each other.



ELMER ISLER
Assistant Conductor

The third concert at the end of March brought the season to a close. It was an interesting and varied programme including The Unfinished Symphony by Schubert, the Egmont Overture by Beethoven, String Pieces by Healey Willan, and a work by a member of the orchestra, James Guthrow. The major work was the Grieg Piano Concerto in A Minor, with Frank Churchley as soloist.

The University Symphony Orchestra and the All-Varsity Mixed Chorus were both formed originally at the request of the students. The emphasis placed upon both is not one of technique, but rather that the students may play and sing together, and that their fellow students may hear them. Consequently, under Lee Hepner, conductor; Elmer Isler, assistant conductor; and Elsie Babiak, concert mistress, the orchestra and Chorus have worked diligently and well, and have shared their own enjoyment with the student audience. ⚜

THE ALL-VARSITY REVUE of 1950, perhaps the greatest production of the University of Toronto, catered to a more varied audience than has been the practice in previous years. Ben Wise, Director, and George McGowan, Producer, aided by Associate Director, Irwin Pasternak, scouted other campus shows with this in mind.

Ward McAdam and Jim Guthro are to be congratulated on the success of the "Hart House Towers" selection. Judy Godfrey's "Lookin' For a Man" went over in a big way, as did John Northmore's Chicken Song, "They're Layin' Eggs Now!". "I Could Write a Book," a satire on modern novel-writing was, thanks to George McGowan, a high point in humour. In this same category were " Space Staggers Back " and the "Policemen Skit".

Ted Snider and Jack Northmore handled Mel Hamill's "Toronto Subway Song" expertly. Bouquets, too, to the girls of the kick line who thrilled their audience with "Keep It On Ice". An unusual musical treat was the quintet, the Clef Tones. In a different category were the Jones Boys, whose "Tennessee Waltz" was almost as hilarious as their "Cigareets and Whuskey".

The orchestra-leader, Bob Cringan, the stage-crew, under Bill Kirby and Ted Whiteside, and the costume designer, Joan Crysdale, all deserve congratulations. Miss Nipper Benson, as chairman, kept the A-V-R Committee on the move, and the innovation of a ticket-exchange system, resulted in a great increase of efficiency. All who took part in producing this great show will have satisfying memories of gay times and unchallenged success.

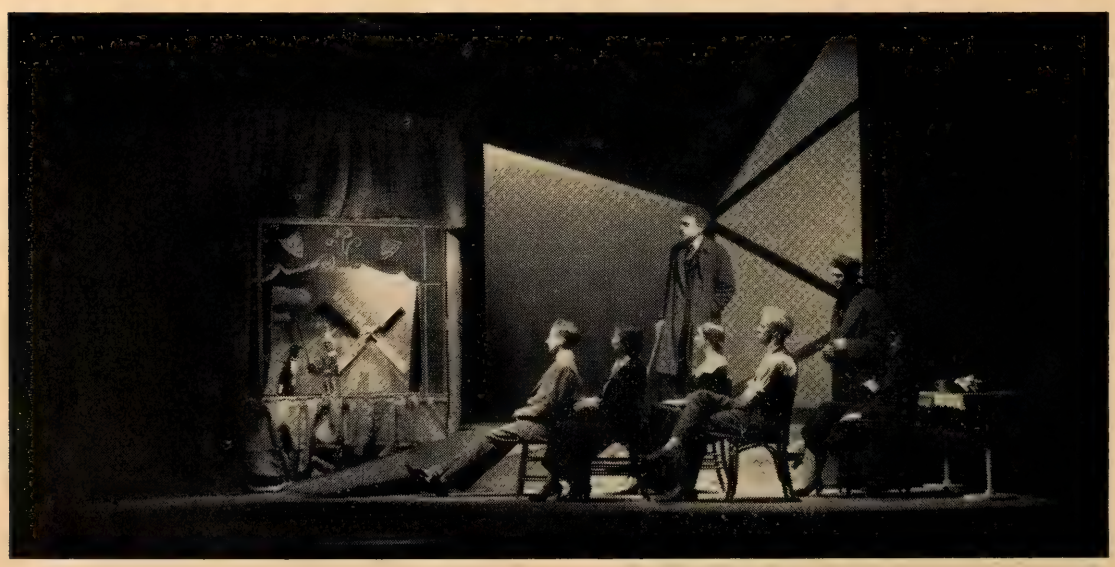
CRIME AND PUNISHMENT

Hart House Theatre

EACH season Hart House Theatre presents four productions with casts chosen from all the colleges and faculties on the campus. Each production runs for seven performances. The October production was the Rodney Ackland dramatization of Dostoievsky's famous novel, CRIME AND PUNISHMENT. In November the presentation was the prize-winning Canadian play, FORTUNE MY FOE, by Robertson Davies. The third production, in January was Ferenc Molnar's comedy of bad manners, THE GUARDSMAN, and for the annual Shakespearean production in February, the classic tragedy OTHELLO.



FORTUNE MY FOE

THE GUARDSMAN

Hart House Theatre has proved itself a most valuable part of the life of the University. It is providing an opportunity for the undergraduates of the University and the Toronto public to see plays of high quality and interest. Over seventy-five students took part in the productions under the direction of Theatre Director Robert Gill.

Besides the Hart House Theatre series, productions are presented in the theatre by seventeen producing groups on the campus. During the University term the theatre is in constant use.

U. of T. Pipe Band

THE University of Toronto Pipe Band began back in the war years, when the C.O.T.C. was on a compulsory basis for all male students, and a band was needed for the second battalion, the C.O.T.C. Pipe Band was born. Although the repertoire was only three tunes, the band was appreciated and it was felt that there would be a place for it on the campus. Not until the fall of 1947 did the band become organized after a lapse of several years. With the help of the C.O.T.C. and Major Logan, the pipe band was started, with the 48th Highlanders lending the kilts and some of the equipment.

Last year and again this season, the band met with terrific enthusiasm. The stirring lilt of the pipes added colour to the rugby games, "Pep Rallies", Homecoming Weekend, "Feather Fair" and, in the winter months, to the C.O.T.C. Ball, and Athletic Nights. A sombre note was added on Armistice Day when the band took part in the campus service. Not until January 1949 did the pipe band become a co-ed organization, when six girls formed the first dancing class, putting on a show as an Athletic Night attraction that winter. This year the girls have danced at most performances as well as at parties. At the present time, the future of the band is none too bright, as the uniforms on loan from the 48th Highlanders must be returned. The Students' Administrative Council is dubious as to what support, beyond the band's yearly needs, it can undertake. Come what may, fire, flood, or civil war, the University of Toronto Pipe Band will continue.

U. of T. Film Society

THE University of Toronto Film Society has completed its third and most successful year to date. The members, numbering nearly 450, formed enthusiastic audiences for Sunday afternoon showings in the Museum Theatre of international film classics of past and present. This membership represented students and staff of all faculties and colleges in the University. Programme notes prepared by the Research Director provided useful background information on the films shown.

Members interested in broadening their knowledge of film-art had the opportunity during the year of actually producing two motion-pictures of the documentary type. One film was a sociological study of the effect upon an average Japanese-Canadian family of the experience of wartime evacuation from the Pacific coast. The second film dealt with preventive dentistry for children, and was made with the advice and assistance of members of the Faculty of Dentistry. Increased student interest predicts expanded activities next year.

The U.T.D.C. is a committee made up of representatives from the various dramatic societies on the campus for the purpose of correlating the dramatic activities in the University.

Through this organization the college societies are able to present one-act productions on the Hart House Theatre stage, and to benefit from private discussion groups after the performance with a view to raising the standard of their work. The U.T.D.C. programme provides an opportunity for experimental work by student actors and directors.

A new function of the committee this year is to act as a liaison between Hart House Theatre and the college groups.

The Blue and White Society

Did you ever think, as the crowd rolls by,
The cause that puts the glint in their eye?

THESE famous fifteen fugitives from all ends of the campus are the guilty parties. The results?—Pep Rallies, Street Dances, Snake Dances, Float Parades, Placard Displays, Roam-Around Dances, Mid-Game festivities, Blue and White Show, Post-Hockey dances, Silver Skate Awards, and anything else of a social nature that embraces one or more colleges or faculties. Under their leadership we all "Followed the Blues".

University College Social Activities

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE has this year experienced perhaps the fullest social programme in the College's history, many of the innovations being made to interest all U.C. groups.

To begin the year, a very successful Freshman Weekend was held under the careful planning of Publicity Directors Bill Francis and Cythia Dean. Out of town students lived at Holwood while Toronto students joined in the day's activities. The first evening included a rousing sing-song and spirited introduction to College tradition, and was culminated by a fiendish display of sophomore ingenuity in an initiation ceremony in Holwood's attic, which even included a 12 volt electric chair! On the following evening Whitney Hall freshies were invited guests, while Victoria (whose visit was later returned) added to the general confusion. A Frosh-Freshie Barn Dance in West Hall completed the weekend's welcome, where a cow-milking contest was held, and Miss Freshie and Mr. Freshman were chosen.

The Soph-Frosh Banquet, an unqualified success this year, was held in the Royal York. Barb Davidson and Jon Christensen were hosts and revived the institution of passing the torch of the sophomores to first year presidents Joanne Ratz and Lyall Moran; dancing after the banquet completed the Freshman's introduction to U.C.

The Follies is an institution . . .

THE U.C. Follies Revue of 1949 was the longest on record, over an hour and a half. Social Directors, Jane Young and John Bull, co-directed the show, and were well supported by an energetic cast and by the Publicity Directors, whose efforts in securing the Skule Cannon to announce ticket sales added in no small measure to the function's general spirit. The Revue made a commendable attempt at ballet with the unusual Aztec Number and the Starlight Expression Concerto; the show was dominated by an abundance of artistic sets and quantity of original music. United Fishes sang a Gilbert and Sullivan take-off from the waters of Lake Success, and Ted Follows asked the musical question "What was wrong with vaudeville?" Such songs as "We're All For U.C." and "Late Autumn" will be remembered, as will the inimitable Kopek and Inspectre McAbre, U.C. ghosts who returned for the centennial celebration.

Finale

THE Christmas Party and Red and White nights, held as usual in the Women's Union, were enjoyed by many College Students. At the Red and White nights Zi Murray and Jack Novitsky encouraged unprecedented attendance by book-weary scholars, who welcome these functions to play cards, to enjoy refreshments and entertainment, or to dance with that cute blonde or football hero they have been dying to meet all term.

The most startling success of the College social season, the Centennial Arts Ball, this year was held in East and West Halls. Dress was semi-formal, and students were amazed to dance on the "dreamy" Library floor, encircled by colourful lights and amateur conceptions of abstraction, surrealism and cubism. Dreary West Hall was adorned with sarcastically created emblematic shields of University courses, such as a psychologist practising his science on an ego-complex French poodle stretched on a couch. The J.C.R. and Croft House provided sitting-out comfort, and the floor show included a toast to the U.C. Lit and witticisms by Jack Hulme.

The Grad Banquet and Election Night completed U.C.'s social activities for the year, and University College may well boast that its Centennial Year gave complete social satisfaction to every student's desire.

University College Music Club

THE U.C. Music Club, although only in its second year of existence, has brought itself to the attention of all faculties through its achievements last year and this. The main event of 1949-50, Victor Herbert's operetta "The Red Mill" attracted the majority of members, who wished to offer their talents for choral singing, acting, stage and costume design, stage crew, make-up, lighting, and all the thousand and one jobs that make a successful production possible. Hart House Theatre, on the evenings of December 5, 6, 7, was the scene of the performance, which was highly praised by both campus and city critics.

Besides the Operetta, the Music Club was active in respect to its Record Hour, held Friday afternoons in the Women's Union. Here programmes of the music of Bach, Mozart, Verdi, Beethoven, were presented, with a commentary by interested students. The members of the club who attend the Conservatory prepared a concert for one of these Friday afternoons.

The U.C. Singers presented their usual Christmas Musicale, complete with atmosphere, and supplied the choral background for the tableaux at the Dean's Christmas Party. In addition, a second musicale was planned to complete the year's programme.

The success of the Music Club's activities in all fields, especially in connection with the operetta, has definitely made it one of the most popular clubs on the campus. The 1949-50 executive passes on its achievements and a challenge to the club next year. Keep up the good work!⚜

University College Players' Guild

THE U.C. Players' Guild presented several successful one-act plays this year. The only drama club on the campus with its own stage, the Guild offered eight one-act plays at the Women's Union in the first term, and seven in the last term. The Guild played host to the Drama clubs of the other Art colleges. The Players' Guild presented one play on a bill given in arena style at St. Michael's College. In addition it contributed one play to each of the U. of T. Drama Committee's four Hart House programmes.

The Womens' Union plays ranged in content from Eugene O'Neill's tragic drama "Where The Cross Is Made", to the gay fantasy, "Maker of Dreams", by Oliphant Downs. For the second successive year a Robertson Davies play was presented, the choice this year being "Voice of the People".

In February, Hugh Shaw's "Money For Jam", and Ken Jarvis' "It's No Trouble", first and second prize winners of the Robin Godfrey Award, were presented. The first bill of the year had another undergraduate written play, "Louise" by Bruce Evoy.

This year saw the innovation of Theatre Night. It was given over to four artists' recordings of Hamlet's soliloquy, "Oh What A Rogue and Peasant Slave". Professor Grant of the English Department discussed the interpretations. Brian Doherty was guest speaker. This playwright and Canadian producer for such people as John Gielgud, Flora Robson and the Dublin Gate Players, led a discussion on the state of the Canadian theatre.

Most important event of the year was the inauguration of an award by Professor McAndrews, registrar of U.C. This award will be given yearly to the member of the Guild, exclusive of the executive, who has contributed the most to Guild activities.

Patty Scott, as Pierrette, and John Pampson as the "Maker of Dreams", listen to Pierrot played by Christopher Taylor on the fantasy, "Maker of Dreams"; directed by Ron Grant.

Niaomi Strauss, playing the militant anti-surffragette, leader Mrs. Banger, holds Ron Grant, as General Mitchiner, at bay in the Al Shaw directed "Press Cuttings" of G. B. Shaw.

Victoria College Music Club

IN 50 years Vic Music Club members will look back on 1950 and experience a feeling of nostalgia for the "good old days". Many things will come to their minds: that never-to-be-forgotten week in February when they were transformed into wedding-eager bridesmaids, busy village maidens, dashing gay blades and haunting spectres to put on "Ruddigore" in Hart House Theatre; the mad rush of stage, make-up and costume crews to get every detail perfected before the curtain rose; the raid on the punch-bowl at intermission; the harrowing but happy hours spent under the direction of Godfrey Ridout and Geoffrey Hatton; the successful Glee Club production held in the Museum Theatre under the able baton of Elmer Iseler; the thrill of ending on key when singing "a capello"; the exchange trip to McMaster; the gala at-home that caused such a flurry. All these things will have a place in their memories but the greatest bond of all is that of the friends we have made and the comradeship of fellow music lovers.

Victoria College Dramatic Society

TO quote Mr. Robert Gill, director of Hart House Theatre, "The Vic Club was hot this year".

The executive planned a very full programme this year in order to fulfill the aim that every member should participate in that aspect of the club's activities in which he is most interested. A monthly letter and a new bulletin board kept the 110 members informed about activities. At the Wymilwood monthly meetings, members heard such speakers as Professor Northrop Frye, whose talk was on "Comedy Formulas"; participated in a debate on "Whether Drama was the most beneficial extra-curricular activity"; saw a demonstration in make-up; watched a movie "As The Twig is Bent" and listened to famous dramatic recordings. A gala party-meeting in Febraury concluded the year's social activities.

For students interested in directing there was a series of lectures presented by the director of Hart House Theatre, as well as the practical experience in the eight one-act plays. These one-act plays were produced in visits with three other college groups or one-act bills sponsored by the U. of T. Drama Committee or for the monthly meetings. In addition, twenty-one of the members took part in Robert Gill's Hart House Productions.

The highlight of the year was Arthur Miller's "All My Sons" in November. Directed by the brilliant Varsity graduate, Henry Kaplan, the production surpassed all expectations. Besides the cast and director, busy crews of stage hands, costumers and usherettes helped make "All My Sons" the success it was, a climax to a year of which the Society is very proud.

Victoria College "Bob"

SEVENTY-SEVEN years ago, Bob Beare, the janitor at Victoria started a tradition with snow apples and violin music. The Bob was, and is, as the preamble to the constitution states, "That most characteristic and peculiar of functions, which has for its purpose the initiation of the members of the First Year and expression of that feeling of friendly antagonism universally existing between the First and Second Years".

During the passing years, the Bob had evolved into a "production" similar to other campus shows, thus tending to diminish its original form—"men only". But this year, in order to include all members of the First and Second Years, the Bob was held on the same evening as the Women's Mock Court, with both parties joining for a follow-up dance after their respective activities were completed.

This year also saw the innovation of the "Big Apple Battle" designed, most successfully, to "express that feeling of friendly antagonism". And so, with the presentation of the traditional Bob cane to the Director and the annual anniversary of "that memorable night in November 1872", was commemorated the Vic Bob "49"; to be forgotten 'til next year.

TAKE 900 disguised engineers and architects, soon to graduate, an equal number of lovely ladies, and pour into the Royal York, each in formal dress.

To the ladies, add to each one miniature slide rule, emblazoned 5T0; to the men, add to each one white carnation.

Take a four course roast chicken dinner for each above, and serve in an atmosphere of candlelight and wine.

Season with good humour from the speakers, and with good fellowship from the others at the table.

Mix gently—at varying tempos—to music provided by Mart Kenney and Boyd Valleau. Warm to the lyrics of Norma Locke and Shirley Harmer. Garnish generously with harmony from the Golden Gate Quartet. Sprinkle with the wit of Larry Foster and Doug Romaine.

Add spirit in 1¼ oz. allotments. Obtainable at either bar.

Allow the above to simmer for about seven hours on the Convention Floor.

Remove—and allow to cool slowly for a period of several hours over a dispersed area. After cooling, allow the company to wend their various ways homeward, tired and happy. At appropriate time, serve one or more bromos each.

The Grad Ball, Class of 5T0 Engineers and Architects is then ready for the scrapbook and fond memories; assuredly the highlight of the social functions of the class throughout its life on the campus.

Torontonensis

A word of thanks to all you who have helped with Torontonensis 1950 and more especially to those who spent many long hours editing and proof-reading copy, laying out and pasting up pages and many other jobs that go into preparing a yearbook. It has been a lot of hard work but I think you will agree that it has been fun. It is due entirely to your efforts that there has been a yearbook at all. Many thanks also to Alger Press for their whole-hearted co-operation and assistance.

Although most of the staff were new to Torontonensis this year, they have done a grand job. Much of the work came at the worst time of the year—just before exams—yet they were always ready to pitch in and help. To them all, then, go heartfelt thanks and the very best wishes for success and happiness in the years to come.⚜

The Undergrad

THIS year, due to cuts in the budget, it was decided to publish only two issues of the "Undergrad", the literary magazine of University College. However, these two issues, which appeared early in December and March, were to contain material of a specifically literary nature only. College current events, etc., were felt to obtain adequate coverage from "The Varsity". Generally speaking, the year has been a successful one; the creative literary activity of the College has been vigorous and the widespread interest among first and second year students promises its continuance.

The editorial staff was: Editor-in-Chief: R. M. Tait; Literary Editor: K. P. Watson; Art Editor: Patricia Scott; Associate Editors: Joanne Stoddart and Peter Oliphant; Business Manager: R. A. J. Roger; Production Manager: Barbara Bambridge.

THIRD ROW: David Sutherland, Geoffrey Pearson, Hugh McCallum, Charles Salter, Robert Johnston, Business Manager; Andy Watson.

Trinity University Review

IN spite of the departure of most of the bright lights which enlivened Review Board meetings in past years, and the general apathy of the undergraduate body to all literature except Pogo, The Review managed to produce five literary issues of, if not historic, remarkably even quality. If any literary trends were visible, they seemed to be away from fiction in prose and from punctuation in poetry. The Review, with its traditional policy of unenlightened benevolence, took and was grateful for whatever it received, and only sporadically made any attempt to understand Trinity's avant garde.

For its own part, it made the most of possessing an able art editor and active art staff to illustrate its pages profusely, with fine disregard of the Business Manager's budget and ulcers. It also managed to resist the apparent campus trend of literary magazines to run gossip corners, sports columns, and personal humour, and continued to lay its pages open to the inevitably small number of students who wished to write creatively. Sports column addicts were catered for in the summer issues of 1949 and 1950, both, for reasons of higher strategy, included in the current volume; these issues took the form of college yearbooks, and attempted to report to posterity on singular features of the year.

Toike Oike

STILL appearing as a four page tabloid "every now and then", Toike Oike managed to survive through eight issues on a very limited budget. The scarcity of issues and the unpredictable material meant that the publication dates had to be carefully synchronized with outstanding events of the year.

As well as keeping the Schoolmen informed of coming events around the faculty, Toike Oike continued its policy of trying to be humorous. Judging by the occasional "yuk yuk" heard in the common room, it was sometimes successful.

In its forty-odd (some odder than others) years of existence, Toike Oike has changed often in appearance and subject matter, reflecting the changing times and personnel, but has rarely failed to attract readers. With luck and the continued financial aid of the Engineering Society, the two battered typewriters may spell out another forty years of Skule's history.

Transactions and Year Book

AGAIN in 1950 as in past years, plans were made to produce a record of Skule's successes and disasters—to cost its readers nothing. The fancy financing required for a 160-page publication of this nature was to be handled by a subsidy from the Engineering Society and by a stepped-up advertising drive.

The theme for 1950 was change; change to an edition much larger in size; change in content layout, in style of type, in cover design. Coupled with this urge towards new and better things, was the perhaps wishful intent to publish Transactions before end-of-term, a feat, unattained for some years.

An interesting feature is that the editorial staff was composed of Engineers evenly spread from 5T0 to 5T3,—a fact which in the future will overcome one of the great bugbears: usually most of the staff graduates, leaving in the fall an assortment of clueless hopefuls, as far as the year book is concerned.

In producing Transactions, 1950, we on its staff hope that we have answered a need. It's been a little rough on the odd lab report, but it's been fun.

To those of you who helped us in so many ways—by going out after advertising, by being on time for your class picture, by writing that team report—a salute from the Cannon, a big "Toike Oike", and "Thanks a million!" ⚜

Hya Yaka

THE 1950 edition of the official publication of the Faculty of Dentistry marks the forty-sixth year of continuous publication. The current edition bears the form of the "new look", set three years ago when the magazine was converted to its larger size.

The pendulum of student interest in its magazine has swung back from the period of apathy toward the present more favourable interest. The result of revived student interest has been greater student contribution, a fact which gives the editor much pleasure.

The current graduating class is of a number unequalled since the post-war class of 1923, and although it has meant an increase in the effort necessary to produce Hya Yaka, it has also provided us with a more varied source of material.

The editor wishes to thank the members of his staff and the many student contributors who made the magazine possible, and a congratulatory hope for success to the "Horde of '50".

N. F. C. U. S.

THE Toronto Committee of N.F.C.U.S. has worked on several specific projects throughout the year. These include regional student exchange; Canadian-American student exchange; the investigation of high text costs; arrangements to assist student overseas travel; and the preparation of reports on text outlets and Student Union Buildings across Canada.

In addition to this, the Committee has worked on several matters in conjunction with I.S.S. The visit of forty Toronto students to the University of Montreal, and the return visit of an equal number of Carabins here, were arranged jointly by the local Committees of N.F.C.U.S. and I.S.S.

On the national level, N.F.C.U.S. has this year seen its traditional support of inter-University debating culminate in the establishing of a National Canadian University Debating Association under its auspices. The Federation has also presented a brief to the Massey Commission urging the establishment of a U.N.E.S.C.O. Commission in Canada, and of a substantial number of Federal Government Scholarships.

Each University is represented on N.F.C.U.S. by the President of its Student Council and the Chairman of its N.F.C.U.S. Committee.

Victoria College Debating Parliament

THE aim of the Victoria College Debating Parliament has been to promote public speaking and debating in the College. For this purpose a debate was organized every month during the fall and winter terms. The subjects were both humorous and serious. The first debate, in October, was, appropriately, "Resolved: That freshmen are too immature for University". A more serious topic, in which Mr. Reid Scott, MPP, was guest speaker, was, "Resolved: That Democracy Implies Socialism".

The Debating Parliament sponsored the Thomson Impromptu Debates. These were held two noons a week and over a hundred students participated. After a process of elimination, four finalists were sent to McMaster University to compete in an inter-college debating contest.

According to tradition, the last debate of the season was the Senatorial Debate. The four staff members (senators), again according to tradition, made "nonsenses out of sense". Also at this debate two of the four finalists in the Thomson Debates were chosen as winners.

Victoria College Liberal Arts Club

THIS year the activities sponsored by the Liberal Arts Club of Victoria College were threefold: the Record Hour, the Writers' Group, the Open Meetings.

A number of Record Hours were held at Wymilwood during the first semester: these consisted of recordings from operas, Shakespeare, classical music, and jazz.

The Writers' Groups were very successful both in supplying constructive criticism for the authors and in uncovering new material for Acta Victoriana. The Professors Robins, Frye, Woodside, and Miss Kathleen Coburn were among the guest critics.

Three Open Meetings were held during the year. Mr. Mavor Moore was guest-speaker at the first and his topic dealt with the theatre in Canada; Professor McLuhan spoke on modern poetry at the second meeting; and the third one consisted of a concert of works composed and performed by students from all faculties.

Thus the Liberal Arts Club feels, especially in the case of the Writers' Group, that it has fulfilled enough student needs to justify its existence.

Trinity College Literary Institute

EARLY in the year, the President and Government Council adopted a policy tending to bring the literary organizations of the College under the paternal eye of the Institute. The Arts and Letters Club was the first and only organization to submit to this benevolent stare but though at first its members seemed anxious to follow suit, the Dramatic Society finally decided against such action. Further negotiations were not undertaken. Under the terms of a revised Constitution, the Arts and Letters Club becomes a committee responsible to the Lit. and hence to the College as a whole. Its activities have been, if anything, more vigorous in the new association.

Except for two extraordinarily percussive debates, the first and third of the year, participation in the literary programme of the Institute has been uninspired. The notorious Blok-de Reske vs. Hicks-Hladun encounter was enjoyed by nearly one hundred and fifty Men of College and was given an eye-catching report in The Varsity and in the city press. In a sense the publicity was what the Institute needed and the arguments and discussions before, during, and after the debate, if not always sound, at least portended a lively year. The following debate, however, though it was an annual Freshman affair and on a good topic (Euthanasia), had only about twenty-five in attendance, none of whom, except for the promising speakers, were from the First Year. As a last resort, the President, fearing a disturbing echo in the cavernous chapel, convened the House in the Junior Common Room in an effort to catch after-dinner smokers. Too many got away.

The third debate concerned a motion, subsequently introduced at a College Meeting, to bar Trinity Freshmen from entry into Fraternities. Within a day or two after the debate topic had been announced, every Fraternity man in the College was on his high horse proclaiming the glories of fraternal association and dangerously misinterpreting the motion. Unfortunately, few non-Fraternity men paid enough attention even to redress the error, but the evening was rowdy and reminiscent of better Institute days. Soon afterwards, a Lit.-sponsored U.T.D.U. debate, "Resolved: That the Supreme Court of Canada should supersede the Privy Council", resulted in a tie vote between Western (for the motion) and Toronto, but, though the discussion was of a high quality, it was virtually ignored by Men of College.

Early in the second Term, an Impromptu Speaking Night, held in the Junior Common Room, which had all the ear-marks of success, was attended by no more than twenty-five Men of College, soon lost all semblance of Parliamentary order, and resolved itself into a club social. Some of the speaking, however, proved amusing and some fluent, and the evening gave a few members a chance to express themselves on their feet in an informal and not too terrifying atmosphere.

For the results of the activities that made for this somewhat depressing recital the Government Council cannot be held responsible. Led by an active President, it tried every conceivable device to arouse interest in the student body but met with only very partial success. It would be superfluous to point out where the fault lies. Everyone knows, and at the last that is all there is to say or do.

At the time of writing there is hope for the traditionally spirited debate planned between St. Hilda's and the College. In addition, Mr. John Diefenbaker will speak at the Annual Dinner of the Institute in February and this event is already eagerly awaited.

St. Hilda's College Literary Society

THE St. Hilda's Literary Society has enjoyed a fairly diversified programme this year, with such highlights as the opening debate between the dons and the undergraduates on the topic, "Resolved: That the women should propose"; an address by Professor Bagnani on the art of debating; and the annual presentation of the Nativity play, presented this year for the undergraduates and again for the graduates at the Dean's Christmas party.

The regular fortnightly meetings have seen debating skill adequately displayed in the inter-year debates and the year plays have been of exceptionally high calibre. The awards for these two activities will be presented at the annual Literary Society banquet.

There is to be a joint debate between the members of St Hilda's and Trinity Literary Societies.

The Debating Club has done much to stimulate interest in debating and to increase our proficiency in that art.

St. Michael's College Co-operative

THE St. Michael's College Co-operative, a unique organization on the campus, has again completed another successful year. Starting from scratch in 1947, it has developed into a sound, profitable business organization as well as an influential student Christian Co-operation movement. Having spent the first years of its infancy in establishing a stable financial basis, it has now turned its focus towards a higher, more important goal, its basic purpose of instilling in its members the principles of Christian Co-operation. They are beginning to feel more and more that this is their Co-op and to assume the responsibilities this entails. A tangible evidence of this may be seen in the fact that the work is carried out entirely by students, the number of volunteers growing steadily.

This year, as every year, new improvements have been added to the tuck-shop. At the beginning of the fall term, the Co-op had a complete over-hauling,—new furniture, a new paint job, even a carpentry job on the counter which, having changed position slightly, provides more space and more efficient service. In the administration department, the constitution underwent changes too so that the Co-operative by-laws would be more suited to this particular organization. In all respects the St. Michael's College Co-operative has advanced by leaps and bounds and we hope that its growth will continue as successfully in future years.

S.P.S. Aeronautical Club

THE Skule grad wasn't kidding when he remarked: "Them was the bestest four years of my life". When you show this dusty and yellowed tome to your cute little grandchildren some time in the future you Aeros will agree, especially when you start to reminisce.

Remember the Valentines Day party for dear Mrs. Infeld when we expanded e^x? The wiseacre quips from the back of the room that sent the class into paroxysms of laughter and the lecturer like Daffy home muttering? The eminent contribution of our club to that magnificent old Skule Spirit in the zoot forms of the Lackspeed Constellation and the Skule Nite 5T0 rocket.

Then recall with a twinge of sadness the glory of the class basketball team which outnumbered every other minor league squad, but couldn't outscore them. The weary midnight quest from snowbound hut to hut at Ajax, trying to find someone who had scabbed enough to finish the lab report that was due tomorrow.

Did you see the Club speaker who could inflate either lung independently, at will, and do you still feel slightly confused by the energy equations, the vector analysis and the rather odd flight angles so jauntily flipped at us?

Sit back in your easy chair, you rich Aeronautical Engineer, and remember the Good Old Days . . . and the rest of us still trying to get through Fourth Year.

S.P.S. Ceramics Club

THE Ceramics Club, though still an infant with a small membership, has undertaken to provide those members with a full programme this year.

The Club has already sponsored several trips to various ceramic plants in and around the Toronto area. A tour was made of the mine and processing plant of the American Nepheline Corporation of Stoney Lake where the world's best source of nepheline sijenite, an increasingly important ceramic material, is located. The fourth year, as representatives of the Club, attended a convention at the Mount Royal Hotel in Montreal under the auspices of the Canadian Ceramic Society. Besides many excellent technical talks, a visit was made to the Canada Cement Company.

In addition to several previous technical meetings, a social evening was held in conjunction with the local section of the Canadian Ceramic Society to end the year's activities. Mr. Deeth of the American Nepheline Corporation was guest speaker and he showed colour movies taken by him on a tour of the United States and Mexican ceramic industries.

The executive wishes every success to this year's graduating class and to the new Club executive next year.

S.P.S. Civil Club

IT was pouring rain. Sad-looking creatures lined up at York Hall, hidden behind mountains of baggage. There were fees to be paid, rooms to be snared, and meal tickets to be stolen, the values of which were considerably increased by sweet talk with steam table wenches.

The Genosha Hotel played host to our noisy Club that first year. What sport, running topography between 208, line 3, Lake Ontario, and the Spruce! Just try to study for those exams with water fights, ball games, and general horseplay.

The boys who stayed at Ajax really threw one fine party that night to compensate for dreary days, chasing demies off line, and cooking levels into reasonable condition. The Comet Isle bonfires, the Bunk House Brawl, Square Dances, Movies and D. astros all. Shoot Polaris!

Thence to the big city. Could we stand the proximity of imbibing institutions, cultured artsmen, and fine beetles? The boys have stood up well under the social whirl, the Savarin party, the successes of the 5T0 Civils Basketball team, the noise of the Four Flushers, and the Bird patrol.

Then came the Decew, Queenston, and the Pig and the Whistle. Say no more. I'm tired and my thesis is only half done.

All else was eclipsed by the grand and glorious grad ball March 10 and 11. What were those room numbers again?

Then graduation . . . and there they go . . . .⚜

S.P.S. Debates Club

THE activities of the debates club during the first term of the session consisted of two debates. The first was held in Hart House debates room on the topic "Resolved: that the Engineering Business Course should be discontinued at Skule." The question was settled once and for all. The Engineering and Business students won this debate by an overwhelming majority.

The second debate was held in Brennan Hall. Skule debaters were guests of the St. Michael's Senate. The house decided that "Canada should have a unitary form of Government." This resolution was opposed by Hienz Feldberg and Jack Grossman of the debates club.

During the second term, the club has arranged for a series of lectures in public speaking and debating. Professor Bagnani of University College has kindly consented to deliver these lectures. Other activities include debates with the Arts and Letters Club of the Medical Society, and with Loretto College.

Details regarding the Segsworth inter-year debates are still in the discussion stage. All years are encouraged to participate in debates in order that the inter-year debates may be highly competitive.

S.P.S. Electrical Club

THE term 1949-50 saw the re-amalgamation of the Toronto and Ajax Electrical Clubs into the one club as in pre-Ajax days. This gave the Electrical Club a membership of over five hundred: the largest in its history. With this in mind, the executive planned the Electrical At-Home for early November to meet the needs of the large club. The function was attended by over 250 couples with several staff members and other guests joining in the festivities, which were held at Columbus Hall.

Also in November, the third year students toured STELCO and Westinghouse plants in Hamilton, whilst the Seniors visited the HEPC Generating Station at DeCew falls and proceeded on to inspect the large Niagara Hudson steam generating station in Buffalo N.Y.

Early in December Mr. A. A. McArthur of the Canadian Westinghouse Company gave an illustrated lecture and demonstration of equipment on C.S.P. Transformers, at a general meeting.

The first function of the new year was held on January 18th, at the Prince George Hotel. This was the Electrical Club dinner which was a sell-out. The guest speakers were Mr. A. E. Wilson and Mr. F. T. Simson of Brazilian Traction Light and Power Company who illustrated their lectures with slides and with the sound colour film "Modern Brazil", which was produced by the company.

S.P.S. Engineering Business Club

ON September 25th, 1946, we set out on our quest for knowledge. This was our start at Ajax. Many memories of muddy Ajax will be retained by us.

In the fall of 1947, a big decision was made by all of us—to transfer from our various courses to the course of Engineering and Business for our second year. No graduates of this course had, as yet, gone forth into the business world. Even so, I am sure that none of us has regretted taking the big step.

We were welcomed onto the campus in Toronto in Sept. 1948 by a great Eng. Biz 4T9 student—Pat Suddick. Here we found things a little different from Ajax. Service tunics and battle blouses were frowned upon and we were to shave once a day and look neat.

Eighty-five of us embarked upon our final year on Sept. 21, 1949. This was "the" year we had been working for. Dean Tupper, our newly installed Dean, spoke to us at our Dinner Meeting held in Hart House on December 1st. A Christmas Dance on the last day of the fall term was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. We are sure to have fond memories of the School-at-Home, and especially of the 5T0 Grad Ball on March 10th.

The Club Executive takes this opportunity to wish all of its grads the best of luck in their future activities.

THE first general meeting was held in Hart House. The honorary chairman, Prof. K. B. Jackson, addressed the meeting on scientific applications of photography. The talk was illustrated with stereoscopic photographs.

Field trips have been held by the Fourth and Third years. The major trip of the Fourth year students was to Eastman Kodak Company in Rochester N.Y. and the Cavrier Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Company in Syracuse N.Y. The Third year students have visited several industrial plants in the Toronto area.

A dance called the Calculytic Caper was held on the 17th of January at the Savarin. Attendance was good and dancing, to the music of Eddie Stroud, was enjoyed by all. Much laughter was raised by Si. Leonard, ventriloquist extraordinaire, who entertained at intermission.

A second general meeting is proposed for February, while the annual dinner is to be held in March.

S.P.S. Industrial Chemical Club

THE first item of note was the very interesting and extensive field trip made by the Fourth Year from the 13th to the 16th of October. The route was east this year, as the club members visited rayon, and pulp and paper plants in Cornwall, alcohol, and pulp and paper plants in Gatineau, and a sugar refinery in Montreal. With bouquets to the organizers it should be added that the week-end terminated in true college fashion at the McGill-Toronto football tilt. The Third Year took field trips to the Toronto malting houses and the oil refinery at Clarkson.

The first general meeting, held in Hart House on the evening of November 25th, featured the film "Nature Control" with commentary by Mr. Cuthbert of Hiram Walker's Distillery. Movies seemed to be the trend of the year as three more films entitled "The Formica Story", "Lets Spin a Yarn", and "Colloids" formed the billing of the second formal meeting, held in the Wallberg on January 25th.

Second Year started the social programme with their class smoker on October 13th. This was followed by Club dances at the Savarin Tavern, on October 25th and November 29th, providing pleasure and relaxation to all who attended.

A sleigh-ride and dance, held at Maple Creek Farm, Scarboro, on January 27th added a novel but enjoyable evening to the social agenda which culminated late in February with the annual Club Dinner.

S.P.S. Mechanical Club

THE Mechanical Club during the year enjoyed many educational and entertaining activities which were arranged to provide an adequate programme for the benefit of the class. These included fourteen field trips and three conducted tours through the new Mechanical building. John Fisher provided a spirited evening for one of the club dinners, while a stag event featured a refreshing gay-nineties atmosphere.

Notable among the field trips were those taken to the Ontario Hydro installations at Queenston-Chippawa and DeCew Falls, the Hamilton Steel Foundries, the Canada Wire and Cable, and the Malton plant of A. V. Roe Aircraft. These trips served the most useful purpose of illustrating the diversity of industrial and commercial activity which is carried on here and within a short distance of the city.

The new Mechanical building was a point of interest for the Freshmen reception and later for visiting Alumnae during the old home week-end. Relatives and friends of all fourth-year S.P.S. students were shown through on open-house night.

S.P.S. Mining and Metallurgical Club

BECAUSE of a shortage of abandoned stopes in the immediate environs of Toronto, and the understandable hostility of the proprietors of various meeting places used before, it was decided to forego the Annual Stag Party. In its place was held the Miners' Annual Donkey Barbeque.

At meetings the Club was addressed on such diverse topics as "The Labrador Iron Fields", "Industrial Psychology", and "What the Mining and Metallurgical Industry Expects of the University Graduate". The Graduating Class was entertained at dinner by the Toronto Branch, C.I.M.M., at the Royal York.

In no way wishing to take credit away from others who participated, the members of the M. & M. Club may be justifiably proud of their great co-operation in Engineering Society functions. When one remembers the spiked helmets about the Skule Cannon, the eccentric floats in the Homecoming Parade, and the many committees for which our members worked, and teams for which they played, it becomes a matter of pride to be a member.

Commerce Club

SINCE its inception twenty-nine years ago, the course in Commerce and Finance has recognized the Commerce Club as its official undergraduate organization. This year Professor Hennessey has been capably fulfilling the office of Honorary President and actively advising the club during the year.

One of the main purposes of the club is to bring into closer contact undergraduates of the course and members of the business world. This is partially achieved through informal meetings of the club featuring addresses by prominent business and professional men dealing with current economic and general business topics. In spite of the decreased enrolment, activities this year have been expanded. Luncheon meetings and an increased number of tours have brought club activities back to pre-war standards.

The social and athletic functions of the club are ever increasing in popularity. Held at the Club Kingsway, the fourth annual "Finance Frolic" was again as successful as in previous years. Another series of golf, bridge and tennis tournaments were held.

The opportunity to welcome Commerce Graduates back to the campus on Homecoming Weekend was greeted by the club with enthusiasm. This enthusiasm was reflected in a Commerce float, outstanding among those of the Colleges and Faculties.

The annual Commerce Journal, a journal of economics containing articles written by prominent men from business, labour and government, was again this year published by the club.

Our Freshies were entertained at Tea in the delightful new Common Room. They met the Staff, they toured the building, they saw what was to come.

Kitchen Kapers, the Fall Stag at the Women's Union, was simply smo - - - oth with those entertaining Engineers.

But the culmination of the Household Economics Club activities was the annual formal "At-Home" held at Casa Loma. Unfortunately we all couldn't hold that lucky ticket for the bambi with the enormous pink ears.

Ukrainian Students Club

THE Ukrainian Students Club, an organization of students of Ukrainian descent, has a threefold purpose in its cultural, social, and athletic activities. These activities have included concerts, which have been presented in Toronto and various centres outside Toronto, social gatherings, banquets, sleigh riding parties, and basketball games.

On the campus the U.S.C. has participated in I.S.S. programmes. It endeavours, with other groups, to make better Canadian citizens and to promote feelings of friendship and understanding among these groups.

The U.S.C. has established a Loan Fund in order to assist the student members who may find themselves in financial difficulties during their studies. To this practical measure has been added another one this year—that of supporting the extension course in Ukrainian Language and Literature with the hope that this course will be on the regular curriculum of the University next year.

This year is a memorable one for the Club as it is commemorating its tenth year of successful functioning, and as a landmark to dedicate this decade, it is hoped that an alumni organization, which is in nucleus form, will be fully organized by the year's end.

To all the Ukrainian graduates of 5T0 may we express our congratulations, and especially to the graduates of the Club who will be joining the ranks of graduate members, the alumni of the Ukrainian Students' Club.

La Société Française

FOR "La Société Française" of University College the 1949-50 season was an exceptionally successful one, as many of the students of University College and of other faculties who were interested in French, attended the meetings.

The traditional objectives of "La Société Française" were maintained during the year. The club provided an opportunity for students to increase their fluency in French conversation and to acquaint themselves with French life, customs, and culture. The programmes of the club provided a variety of entertainment ranging from talks to skits, "twenty questions" to one-act plays, movies to sing-songs. This year "La Société Française" was in charge of the joint meeting of the four French Clubs of the University, held on February 14.

International Students Organization

THE International Students Organization was formed for the purpose of bringing together students of all races, and giving them a better knowledge and understanding of each other.

Regular monthly social meetings concentrated on drawing the students out of their shells of reserve through the medium of the various get-acquainted games and dances. Semi-monthly, coffee-hour meetings provided an informal atmosphere where the members could discuss their various cultures in a valuable interchange of ideas.

The Varsity International Ball is motivated primarily by I.S.O. and bids fair to become the most colourful event in the University's already colourful tradition.

Negotiations are under way even at this time in an effort to establish an International House on our campus. This plan, when carried out, will provide a centre for all international activity as well as housing and counselling services for guest students.

Every year the activities of I.S.O. broaden in scope as the members tend to appreciate and understand more the purpose of their organization and its unlimited possibilities.

In all respects the I.S.O. is a success in the field of human relations.

Spanish Club

THIS year the University of Toronto Spanish Club decided to stress a deeper student knowledge of Spanish language and culture and to foster a more intimate relationship between the student, the professor and the Latin-American on the campus.

Under the able guidance of Professor E. de Chasca, our honorary president, the Spanish Club has offered varied programmes at its meetings. There have been travelogues on South American countries, talks on Spain and on Spanish troubadour poetry and music, and presentations of Spanish folk dances.

However, this has been only one aspect of the Spanish Club's policy. This year we have formed a series of informal gatherings called "Charlas" to which everyone interested in speaking Spanish was invited. These "Charlas" afford the student opportunities to meet the professors and Latin-American students thus to widen their acquaintanceship. These "Charlas" have been very popular and have been well attended.

In accordance with our new policy, we decided to dispense with dancing after the regular meetings and, instead, to hold a dance in addition to our meetings. At this dance two or three Spanish couples taught Spanish dance steps.

You may not know much about Spain, and may want to learn more; you may want to make new acquaintances; or you may simply want to speak Spanish; at any rate, at the Spanish Club you can do all these things. 'Tis not as good as a trip to Spain; but 'twill do!

1949 - 1950

THE University of Toronto Contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps has supplied so many officers for the Canadian Army that the Corps is now officially recognized as a main source of officers for both the Active and Reserve Forces.

Over three hundred Officer Cadets of the Contingent take practical training each summer for sixteen weeks at Royal Schools across Canada from Valcartier, P.Q. to Esquimalt, B.C.

There are six Active Force soldiers attending the University, attached to the Contingent for training, who will become officers in the Active Force upon graduation. In addition, thirty-seven men in their graduating year have enlisted as Second Lieutenants in the Active Force.

The C.O.T.C. Annual Military Ball held in Hart House in February climaxed the season's social activities.

ROYAL CANADIAN

THE R.C.A.F., through its Reserve University Flight organization established at a number of Canadian universities, trains undergraduates during their academic years for service in its Regular or Reserve force.

Candidates are selected on entry for aircrew or ground training on a basis of quotas allotted, and individual preference and suitability. Undergraduates during training serve as Flight Cadets. On graduation from their universities, and satisfactory completion of their Air Force training, Flight Cadets are commissioned as Pilot Officers.

Winter training for Flight Cadets consists of a series of lectures in appropriate subjects. During the summer, Flight Cadets are posted to various stations throughout Canada wherever they can best receive the technical or aircrew training for which they have been selected.

The accompanying illustrations show some of the many activities enjoyed by Flight Cadets during their summer training.

Student Christian Movement

THE Student Christian Movement is the only organization on the campus in which students can fully and without obligations test the claims of the Christian religion. Atheists, agnostics and Christians, from many backgrounds and denominations, meet to study, worship and act upon their conclusions. During the past four years, our study has been re-organized into four main fields: the task of the Christian in the University milieu; the problem of Evangelism; the Christian and Politics; the growth of the World Church. Since the close of the war, it has been our concern not only to send relief to Europe but also to send many Canadian students to Europe to bring back a clearer picture of world issues and needs. Of the several conferences, most notable was that held in Kansas, 1948, to which two hundred Canadian University students joined the ranks of the two thousand in total attendance to discuss 'Christian frontiers' all over the world. The Great University Christian Mission, which had such impact on our campus in 1949, was originally suggested by an S.C.M. group. One major area of concern in the last few years has been the whole field of Christian-Communist relations; with the result that the S.C.M. is the only non-communist group which remains in affiliation with the W.F.D.Y. The S.C.M. in this way hopes to express our differences as a democratic minority rather than in open hostility from outside. More and more students from U. of T. in the past four years have spent their summers in industrial and agricultural work camps, where, in a Christian community, they attempt to discover the relevance of Christianity in these specific situations.

The S.C.M. is not limited to the University of Toronto; it is part of a world wide movement of students in forty different countries who meet regularly at conferences for the exchange of ideas and clarification of aims. The S.C.M. feels it is justified in claiming to be a pioneer group of modern religious thinking, for seventy-five per cent of the delegates to the recent World Council of Churches in Amsterdam had taken part in S.C.M. groups in their undergrad days.

Hillel Foundation

HILLEL is the B'nai B'rith student organization of American and Canadian college campi. The purpose of Hillel is to create an increased awareness and appreciation among college students of Jewish traditions and culture, to train the Jewish leaders of the future and to build inter-faith goodwill.

The Hillel programme includes religious, social, cultural and personal services and dramatic and interfaith activities. Classes are conducted in many fields of Jewish learning and discussion groups emphasize individual participation. Both a newspaper and annual literary magazine are published and artistic programmes are presented at large mass gatherings of Hillel members. Jewish music, drama and the arts are interpreted by gifted men and women in these fields.

The elected student executive, with the assistance of committees, draws up and supervises the programme for the year. Through its programme Hillel seeks to give its members a new insight into their valuable Jewish heritage, and to lead them towards identification with the Jewish people. This programme is self-motivated and is under the guidance of the director of the foundation.

This Christmas a permanent building at 186 St. George St. was acquired for Hillel. The twelve rooms contained in this spacious building will be used for a chapel, assembly room, music room, library, lecture hall, lounge and office.

U. T. D. U.

THIS year the University of Toronto Debating Union reached maturity. Early in the fall the programme was set up to include inter-university debates and regional Canadian debates with universities in Ontario and Quebec. The tours to univerties in the United States were planned by a committee of three U.T.D.U. members and three members from the Hart House Debates Committee. In this way the U.T.D.U. was able to provide timely and interesting debates with the finest guest speakers here at Toronto.

The year started off with a debate against Osgoode Hall and was followed by debates with Western and the University of Pennsylvania. Between these regional debates the U.T.D.U. held inter-university debates with such interesting guest speakers as Joseph Salzberg, M.P.P., who spoke on the recognition of the new Peoples' Government in China.

The freedom from debating tours proved its worth in the more careful consideration and arrangement, and the over-all higher calibre of debating in the U.T.D.U. The practice of inviting guest speakers to speak on current events for inter-university debating also proved valuable.

With the experience of a year of successful trial and error behind them in large scale co-ed debating, next year's U.T.D.U. should rival our American sisters in the calibre, interest and quality of debating.

Mock Parliament

THE Mock Parliament Committee of the U.T.D.U. set out this year to provide an exposition of the principles of the different university political parties and their stand on a few vital issues, through the media of the Mock Parliaments. In the past the Parliaments had been concerned with discussions on very minor points of political difference, which meant little to any but the rabid politician. In order to avoid this, a permanent speaker with absolute authority was appointed, and the topics allowed by the Committee were broader and more indicative of general policy of a party.

Through these means a series of Parliaments resulted that sought out the core of party policies, and yet were lively, well ordered and interesting to even the most uniformed, politically.

The apex of the year was reached when the Committee summoned the Parliament in the Legislative Chambers of the Provincial Legislature. Here the wisdom of the policy pursued was evident, for speeches of the highest quality revealed the policies of the four major parties to the two hundred and fifty students assembeld there.

Joint Committee U. T. D. U. and Hart House Debates

THE newborn child of the union of the Hart House Debates Committee and the U.T.D.U. proved its worth in its first year of life. Prior to this year, Hart House and the S.A.C. had carried on a separate and sometimes not a coordinated debating programme. However in the field of debating tours a unified programme was possible and held advantages for Hart House, the S.A.C. and the students of the university.

Maintaining a close liaison between their control bodies, the two committees formed a sub-committee composed of three members from each group. This joint committee received a grant from Hart House and the S.A.C. which enabled it to send out two teams to the U.S. and also to take part in the Canadian National Debating Tournament. People who had spoken in either a Hart House or U.T.D.U. debate were eligible and the highest calibre debaters were sent on extensive tours to the best debating universities in the United States and represented the U. of T. at the Canadian Tournament.

With the year of trial behind this committee it will become the body that sends our debaters to the finest universities in North America to claim our place as foremost in the field of rhetoric. It has a proud place beside those committees which direct our debating in the inter-university, regional and political fields. It is the logical result of the high standards of debating at the University of Toronto and the proud bearer of that skill to our sisters in North America.

Ajax Flying Club

WHILE awaiting recognition from the University Caput, the undergraduate Ajax Flying Club is taking advantage of better spring flying weather to bring its training plan into full operation. Formed by R.C.A.F. veterans at the Ajax Division three years ago, the Club has flown over five hundred hours without an injury. Within the past year seven beginners have completed their Private Licences and nine more from all faculties have begun the thirty-hour government-approved course. With the approval of the Air Transport Board, and using the facilities of Lome Airways Limited, Toronto Island Airport, the Club provides one of the lowest priced pilot training courses in Canada, the membership fee being only $2.00 a year. Unusually poor flying weather during the winter restricted flying somewhat but two Sunday morning breakfast flights were held to Hamilton Municipal Airport and the Ontario County Flying Club at Oshawa, in addition to numerous solo cross-country flights. Hart House

HART House was presented by the Trustees of the Massey Foundation to the University of Toronto. To the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Chairman of the Massey Foundation, and at present Chancellor of the University of Toronto, is due the idea of the House, which was named after his grandfather, Hart Massey. The form it assumed was a result of his close co-operation with the architects, the late Mr. Henry Sproatt and Mr. Ernest Rolph. Begun in 1911, the shell of the building had just been completed on the outbreak of the war of 1914-1918 and it was turned over to the army for the training and housing of troops. In 1919 Hart House was officially opened for the use of male students in the University and since that time has assumed its place as the centre of cultural and recreational activity of the University.

Although it is for the use of men only, Hart House is, perhaps, as close to the realization of the ideal house for student activities as any on this continent. In its widest interpretation, it seeks to provide for all the activities of the undergraduate's life outside the classroom and laboratory, and to maintain a link for the graduate with the University. Built around a quadrangle, it provides architecturally a splendid example of the collegiate gothic style, and houses under one roof a finely proportioned dining-hall, common rooms of every description, a library, a debates room, a music room, a small chapel, together with rooms for the use of the Student Christian Movement, an art gallery, a print room, completely equipped photographic darkrooms and workrooms, squash racquets courts, a well-fitted indoor rifle and revolver range, senior common rooms for both faculty and graduate members, a few bedrooms for guests, offices for the Comptroller's department, the office and private rooms of the Warden; and in the athletic wing an upper and lower gymnasium, separate rooms for boxing, wrestling and fencing, an indoor running track, a large swimming pool, and the offices of the Financial Secretary of the Athletic Association, and the Director of Athletics. Below the quadrangle is the fully-equipped Hart House Theatre, with foyer, green room and dressing rooms: it is under the direction of the Board of Syndics.

Every male undergraduate of the University is required to be a member of Hart House towards the upkeep of which he pays an annual fee of twelve dollars. Hart House has no private endowment and is entirely dependent on its membership fees except for a small revenue obtained from sources within the House.

While the ultimate responsibility for the administration of Hart House rests with the Warden, Mr. Nicholas Ignatieff, its care and welfare, is to a large extent, entrusted to the students themselves through a number of standing and special committees. All of the committees are composed of a member of the faculty of the University, one or more graduate members, the Warden or other representative of the administrative staff, and a large majority of undergraduate members who are elected annually by the entire undergraduate membership of Hart House. The activities of all Hart House committees are subject to the sanction and authorization of the Board of Stewards.

Art Committee

Art Class—Carl Schaefer, Instructor

THE current season has seen painting from the Atlantic coast to the Rocky Mountains brought to the Art Gallery. The trend of this year's exhibitions has been towards the showing of younger and non-local artists, and to bring to the attention of the students as large a cross-section of Canadian painters as possible. Most of the provinces have been represented, and many of their younger artists have received their first local showings at the Hart House Gallery. By continuing the series of bi-weekly reviews of these exhibitions by prominent Canadian artists and critics, and very often by having the exhibition reviewed by the painters themselves, the students have been given the opportunity of discussing such contemporary problems as abstract and non-objective art pose to the general public.

The print room, immediately adjoining the Art Gallery, has provided a contrast to the strictly Canadian paintings found in the permanent collection of Hart House, and the visiting exhibitions, by running a series of prints illustrating the history of paintings in England and France.

The Art classes again conducted by Mr. Carl Schaeffer of Toronto, twice weekly in the Art Gallery, have again found a consistent following among the students.

Music Committee

THE Music Committee has presented during the past year, eight Sunday Evening Concerts and eight Afternoon Recitals, given by artists of the first rank. The Sunday Evening Concerts were given by: The Royal Conservatory Opera School; the Parlow Piano Quartet; Robert Graham, violinist; the St. Mary Magdalene Singers—Dr. Healey Willan, director; Ernesto Vinci, baritone with Sir Ernest MacMillan at the piano; George Haddad, pianist; Glenn Gould, pianist; and the Hart House Glee Club—Dr. Charles Peaker, director.

The programme of the Music Committee which consists of the above two recital series; a series of informal recitals given by undergraduate members; bi-weekly Sing-Songs; and the Record Room which has a steadily increasing record library and new long-playing equipment; forms an integral part of the life of Hart House.

Debates Committee

THE debates committee sponsored six debates during the year. The Rt. Hon. Hector McNeil, P.C., M.P., British Minister of State, was the Honorary Visitor at the first debate in October, and defended the motion: Resolved that this House would welcome the return of a labour government in England. Mr. McNeil treated us to a display of British parliamentary debating at its best and was successful in defending the motion. In November the motion before the House protested "the growing loss of academic freedom." The Rev. R. S. K. Seeley, Provost of Trinity College, was the Honorary Visitor. Professor Marcus Long, of the Department of Philosophy, attended the third debate in December and upheld the motion: Resolved that bottle fed babies never grow up. Dr. Eugene Forsey, Director of Research of the Canadian Congress of Labour, was present in January to debate that "the power of trade unions has increased, is increasing and ought to be diminished." Dr. Forsey opposed the motion and was supported by a good majority. At the last regular debate the question before the House was: Resolved that a third world war is inevitable. Major-General Churchill Mann, former vice-chief of the Canadian General Staff, supported the motion, which was defeated. Towards the end of March an extra debate was arranged and for the first time in sixteen years a Prime Minister of the Dominion debated in Hart House. Mr. St. Laurent upheld the resolution: Resolved that there is no effective national alternative to the Liberal party. It was defeated on a close vote, 159 to 153. The Committee created precedents at this debate by using the Great Hall rather than the Debates Room and by declaring it a "special occasion" so that women would be able to hear it.

HART HOUSE DEBATE, MARCH 27TH, 1950, HONOURABLE VISITOR, LOUIS ST. LAURENT, PRIME MINISTER OF CANADA

On the whole Hart House debating is maintaining the traditions and ideals which have become associated with it, and it remains the focal point for debate and public discussion on the campus.

Table Tennis Club

THE third season of the club proved very successful with an active membership of 64 players. Pre-Christmas play, held on Monday and Wednesday Evenings, was based on interfaculty team competition while post-Christmas play, held on the same evenings, was based on individual ability competition. The Graduate team won the interfaculty competitions and Don Hall I Vic. won the club trophy as the most outstanding competitor.

Camera Club

THIS year, the Hart House Camera Club had its most successful year. The membership reached its full capacity of 216 members and most events of the Club were well attended.

The first open meeting in the fall was held for a record-breaking group of members and non-members. The guest speaker was Mr. Nat Turofsky who presented a very interesting as well as humorous talk on his experiences as a press photographer. The programme for the remainder of the first term consisted of instructional classes, and developing, printing, enlarging and mounting, as well as a hike out to the Caledon Farm. Movies were held in the Camera Club Room every second week.

In the second term, the movies were continued and another open meeting was held. At this meeting the members were shown an exciting movie of the Wilkins Brothers' Travels to Africa as well as a talk on Glamour Photography by Mr. Pasquale D'Angelo. However, the feature event of this term and, indeed, of the year was the annual exhibition. Here the members, novices and advanced photographers, entered and had exhibited the fruits of their labour of the year. In all, about 160 prints and 85 colour slides were entered and the judges, consisting of Mr. John Steele, Mr. Eric Aldwinkle, Mr. Hargreave and Dr. Haist, whittled that number down to 46 prints and 20 colour slides. The prize winners were, in the junior class, Mr. D. Sprout for his "Veery"; in the senior group, Mr. R. Wolfe for his "Fog on the Campus" and, in the colour section, Mr. W. Blackhall for his colour slide "By the Shore". The standard of the exhibition this year was high and, in the words of the judges, "showed much creative imagination on selection of subject matter, although many prints fell down because of inferior technical qualities".

With such an extensive programme, the Camera Club of 1949-50 presented to its members a year full of instruction and benefit as well as one of comradeship and work.

Squash Club

AS usual, squash racquets proved extremely popular in the House, the courts generally being booked to capacity each day.

Both graduate and undergraduate members of the House participated with distinction in all major tournaments.

From the graduate team, Mr. W. S. Noyes won the Toronto and District Squash tournament and Mr. J. L. Leibel won the Hamilton International Tournament. The graduate team won the Ontario Team Championship for the 7th time, the 5th year in succession. Hart House graduates playing as Canadian representatives at the American National Squash Tournament in New York were Mr. M. R. Boake and Mr. J. L. Leibel, who reached the quarter finals in the singles.

Mr. E. Howard, Undergraduate Team Captain, was a member of the Canadian team which lost to Boston in the finals at the American National Squash Tournament and was the only Canadian undefeated in team play. Mr. Howard also won the Ontario Singles Championship and was runner-up to Mr. Noyes in the Toronto and District Tournament.

Chess Club

Simultaneous Chess Match In Progress

As usual, the Hart House Chess Club enjoyed an active and successful season. At all hours of the day the room contained players engaged in serious, informal, and very informal play. Noon-hour was the time of greatest activity, as the outstanding (not necessarily in strength of play) members gave simultaneous exhibitions or kibitzed each other's games.

The formal internal events were won by the following: University of Toronto and Undergraduate Championships, S. L. Blum; Pyramid Ladder Competition, R. G. Buck; Rapid Transit Tournament, R. F. Rodgers; Interfaculty Team Tournament, University College.

The Club entered five teams in the Toronto Chess League, one in each of the Premier, Major and Intermediate leagues, and two in the Minor League. The teams took third place in the Premier League, first in the Major, second in the Intermediate and second and third in the Minor.

Library Committee

THIRTY years ago, the founder of Hart House expressed the wish that in the House the members of the University might discover the "true education that is to be found in the casual book". It is to aid the student to achieve this education that the Library Committee of the House directs its efforts. In the belief that the Library should be a place set apart from the academic work of the University, the Committee follows the practice of approving for purchase, only books of general interest. In addition, an effort is made to cater to as wide a variety of literary tastes as possible. To this end, only about one-third of the books in the Library are fiction. The remainder cover a wide enough range to suit a member of any College or faculty. An investigation into the popularity of the more serious books seems to indicate that in this field at least the selections of the Committee have met with general approval.

At the monthly Library Evenings this year, many excellent speakers have dealt with such topics as "Rare Books" and "Cliches in Canadian Writing". Among the speakers were: Professor Keith Feiling, Mr. James Scott, and Mr. John Gray.

Following the practice of last year, the Committee has held programmes of recordings every Tuesday. Material for these programmes has come from the Library's ever-increasing stock of recordings of poem-readings, dramatic orations, and Shakespearian excerpts.

Radio Club

NEW in the Hart House family is the Amateur Radio Club whose three score members pursue the art of radio communication as their hobby. During its first season, the group has presented several visiting speakers, conducted classes to assist newcomers in obtaining their operators' licenses, provided transmission facilities on special occasions and laid plans for expanded activities next year.

Members staying in Toronto during the coming summer will work on the installation of the Club's station VE3BPD at Cawthra Square where the Airforce Amateur Radio Service is assisting with quarters and equipment.

Skills developed in the art are applied to communicating with unseen friends in all parts of the world and filling special need in times of national emergency and public disaster.

Archery Club

THE Hart House Archery Club, now in its fifth year, had a very busy and successful season. Shooting took place in the Rifle Range on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and in the C.O.T.C. Drill Hall on the last Friday of each month where the tournaments took place, allowing city clubs to participate.

Each fall the committee makes an effort to encourage beginners in the use of club equipment and instruction classes are given by Mr. W. A. E. Frost, Dominion and British Empire Champion.

Radio "Hams" In Action

Glee Club

AGAIN this year the Glee Club was privileged to be under the direction of Dr. Charles Peaker. This was Dr. Peaker's fifteenth year as conductor, and with a total membership of over one hundred members the Club had a very successful season. The first concert of the year was presented in Convocation Hall at the end of November. The programme included a selection of carols and was enthusiastically received by the music critics. In mid-December a recording of carols was made for the CBC which was broadcast on Christmas Eve on a nation-wide network. The final concert of the year was the Hart House Sunday Evening Concert in the Great Hall at the end of February. A capacity audience demanded several encores and the presentation was considered to be well up to the high standards set by the Club in previous years.

Next year the Glee Club Committee hopes to be able to arrange an out of town concert involving an exchange between the Club and a group from another University. In addition a social evening is planned for the beginning of the year to help the members to become acquainted.

St. Hilda's College

House Committee

AS an advisory committee to the St. Hilda's College Meeting, the House Committee serves as an important link between the staff and the student body. Its task is to discuss the rules and activities of residence life before they are formally presented at the College Meeting.

The Committee is made up of the Principal, Mrs. Kirkwood, the Head of College, the Heads of the three lower years, the second Heads of all the resident years, and the S.A.C. representative.

Because St. Hilda's is a college as well as a residence, the College Meeting is an institution in its own right. It provides the opportunity for discussion and resolution of all the problems that arise during the academic year. As well as the routine business of both residents and non-residents, the Meeting keeps St. Hildians in touch with the wider issues of the University as a whole.

Holwood House

HOLWOOD HOUSE—that stately mansion on Queen's Park, a land mark of a bygone era, a home away from home for 50-50 fellows from all over Canada, the U.S.A. and Europe. We entered as 50 different kinds and types, but now we have become fused to-gether and we are Holwood Men. We may graduate from the University of Toronto, from University College, but it will be Holwood House that we shall have to leave behind. It is the centre of all our activities, and although not quite the centre of all University activities, yet we may be justly proud of the part Holwood men have played in athletics, in campus clubs, and even in the academic field.

Not all of their time has been taken up with campus activities, there was still plenty of time left over for the four official house dances, that afternoon game of ping-pong, that odd game of bridge or canasta and of course those mid-night bull-sessions.

Yes Holwood House has been a grand place to live. May future students have the luck that we have had. May they too have a Holwood to live in.

73 St. George St.

WITH the days of "73" now definitely numbered (this year, next year, sometime . . . !), the House can look back upon the past year with pride and quiet satisfaction in the knowledge that it has carried forward the aspirations, achievements, ideals and customs (rather odd, some of these!) with which "73" has become endowed since first opening its doors as a Residence, a generation ago.

Entering the year with an unusually large influx of freshmen, occasioned by the graduation last year of all but three veterans, the House has contributed largely and enthusiastically to the achievements of its University and College—possessing, in this connection, far more than its fair share of "leaders".

And so may it be in the future—for this is no obituary. Throughout a quarter of a century the foundations have been laid, and they cannot easily be cast away.

Thus, when the new residence has arisen, let the inmates ponder this, and past volumes of Torontonensis; and let them dedicate themselves not, indeed, to the maintenance of their happy and abundant heritage, but rather to its transcendence.

Vale—atque Salve!

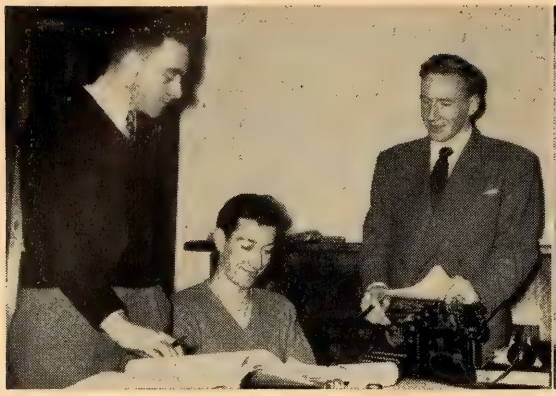
ENGINEERS ! !



The Co-op is a completely student managed organization. Above is pictured Dick Burns (internal auditor), Craig Upfold (treasurer), Frank Mooney (general manager), discussing financial affairs.

The Board of Directors, elected by the general members three times yearly, and consisting of 8 members, meet weekly to execute the business of the co-op. Members are Mac McEwan, Mary Hackney, Edi Campana (secretary), Eugene Ryan, Bill Montgomery Don McKellar, Jocelyn Cunningham, Bill Ives and Jack Dodds.

The Co-op is neutral in race. Esmee Carr (Trinidad), Sigmund Knaul (Polish D.P. student from Germany), and Ferdy Beenfeldt (Norway) meet to discuss the fundamental principles of consumers' Co-ops.

The Co-op boasts the only co-educational dining room on the campus. Here are represented members of all faculties; John Shemilt (Arts), Gerry Skelton (Household Science), Bert Mewha (Dents), Ann Wilson (O.T.), Carl Blackmore (S.P.S.), Marg. Doyle (P.H.E.), and Roger Hicks (Meds).

ARCHITECTS

IN their second year as a separate faculty, the architects' activities have ranged far and varied greatly. During the summer vacation, students from the University of Toronto School of Architecture were to be found all over the continent—from Vancouver to Boston, from Florida to Mexico. But in mid-September, they all converged on Toronto for another session at Convocation Hall Annex. Second Year immediately departed for downtown Toronto and a practical building course at the Ryerson Institute. Third, Fourth and part of Fifth Years moved off to the dripping northland for ten days at Sketch Camp, and the rest of Fifth Year left for a field trip to Tennessee.

While the Second Year were learning how carpenters and bricklayers work, the others were up at the Dorset Sketch Camp dodging the rain drops. Though the swimming and sun-bathing were not up to par, the Camp proved to be the usual fine introduction to another year of work at school. The proceedings were enlivened this year by a show staged by the staff and students. Mr. Madill, head of the school, and Mrs. Madill drove up to Dorset to see this performance.

The three-car motorcade of Fifth Year students led by Jim Murray and Henry Fleiss was meanwhile burrowing its way into the southland. The main purpose was to see the work done by the Tennessee Valley Authority as one of the finest examples of large scale regional planning, but much work of interest was visited along the way. Highlights were Chatham Village, the Berlin and Frank houses in Pittsburgh, the Oak Ridge plant, the Terrace Plaza Hotel in Cincinnati, and Saarinen's and Wright's work in Detroit. They spent three days at Knoxville and drove out to Norris, Watts Bar and Fontana dams: the flags from the highway slalom course in the Smoky Mountains are reminders of Lucky Barnes thrilling driving on the way to Fontana. The more affluent members of the party stayed at the Terrace Plaza Hotel on the way back, and the whole group spent several hours investigating this unique structure—a luxurious hotel on top of two departmental stores.

This group visited Cranbrook and talked with Mr. Saarinen, then saw Mr. Afleck's house and another Wright house under construction. The last day of the trip was spent at the Detroit Art Gallery viewing the exhibition, "For Modern Living". The enthusiasm of those who went on this trip was so great that it is hoped another one of similar scope will be arranged for next year.

ACTIVITIES

After hearing about all the things to see in Detroit, the Fourth and Fifth Years later went down for a week-end. Another party spent a week-end at Des Joachims seeing the new power development under construction there. Still to come is a field trip to Cleveland and Buffalo.

The first major extra-curricular activity of the whole school was the Float Parade at Homecoming Week-end. In spite of the ever-present call dates for problems, the entire student body worked hard and produced a float which won the prize. Spectators at the game in the afternoon will probably never forget the screech of the air whistles as the Train of Tomorrow paraded around the Stadium at half-time.

The First Term Dance at the Top Hat was a huge success with the largest turnout of staff and students to date. At the same time many of the architects were helping to make Skule Nite the big success that it was. The architects' contributions were to set-design and special effects and, of course, the chorus line.

The most ambitious financial undertaking of the year was the presentation of Buckminster Fuller's lecture in Convocation Hall. This was a large scale operation, and would not have been successful without the cooperation of the whole school. Another noted speaker will be presented during the Spring Term. This phase of undergraduate activity is of particular importance since it serves the three-fold purpose of giving the students contact with a man of recognized merit in their field, introducing to the lay and professional public of the city a noteworthy man, and giving valuable organizational experience to the undergrads who arrange the lecture.

The exhibition of British Columbia architecture arranged by the Fifth Year brought before the students a fine picture of the excellent modern work being done on the west coast of Canada. This and all the other activities of the school in which students participated shows just how much the undergraduate at Toronto can contribute to his own education. Besides the purely instructional merit of this work, it has helped to mould the entire undergraduate body of the school into a well-integrated and lively group. The extent of the architects activities will make 5T0 a significant year in the history of the School of Architecture at Toronto.

Women's Athletics

IT was as usual a busy year for all women athletes in the University and particularly for those who were responsible for the organization of the various Clubs. All sports enjoyed a most successful season with the exception of skiing, and this must be blamed on the vagaries of the Canadian winter rather than a lack of interest in the sport.

Intramural Basketball enjoyed a most successful year. Twenty-three teams participated and the championship was finally won by St. Michael's for the first time since 1937, under the captaincy of Betty Fitzgerald. The "Bronze Baby" also came home again with the Intercollegiate team. The meet was held in Montreal and every credit is due to the coach, Miss Mary Barnett and to the team which was built up with only two players from last year's team as a nucleus.

Softball boasted twelve teams and after a hard schedule, prolonged by rain and hampered by cold, P.H.E. I, Vic. I, Meds. and St. Mike's ended up in the semi-finals. It took three hard fought games between Vic. and P.H.E. before the latter emerged victorious in the finals.

The annual invitation golf tournament was again arranged by University College and was welcomed by the golfers who have no other opportunity for University competition. The low gross was won by Carol Hopton, U.C. II; Bowling again proved a popular recreational sport, about 175 students participating.

Volleyball also had an excellent year. Fifteen teams participated in the intramural series with P.H.E. I again winning the championship against the dark horse Meds team in the finals. Toronto won an invitation game at McMaster at home but were beaten out in the meet in Hamilton by the home team. This was the first meet of its kind ever held and it was very successful, with Western and MacDonald College as the other participants.

The Intramural Tennis Tournament showed some good material. The four winners, Pat Montgomery, Barbara Allmond, Evelyn Aiken and Beverley Downey represented Toronto in the Intercollegiate Meet at London and were edged out by McGill by only a single point.

With a twelve-team group, intramural hockey again had a hard-fought series. The perennial rivals, P.H.E. I and Vic. I, played two scoreless draws before P.H.E. I slipped in the winning goal in the third game. An All-Varsity team was again chosen from the best in intramural ranks and played home and home games with Queen's. In both cases Varsity was the victor by an appreciable margin.

Archery, under the coaching of Miss Zerada Slack, developed into a husky two-year old, and both intramural and intercollegiate competition increased considerably. A team from Macdonald College, Guelph, walked away with the Intercollegiate meet in their first attempt. Indoor shoots were held in McMaster in the spring.

The intramural swimming presented an upset when a combined team of Meds, Nursing and Physical Therapy defeated the field, with Jean Cossar of Physio, winning the individual championship and the Ishbel Robertson Cup. Toronto this year made her best showing for some years in the Intercollegiate meet, taking thirty points to McGill's second place twenty-one. Margaret Harrington ended her three years of competition in a blaze of glory, winning no less than four first places.

University College Women's Athletic Association

SPORTS for U.C. women began with softball and golf for the '49-'50 year. A softball team was entered. The golf trophy was won by U.C. at the annual U.C. Invitation Golf Tournament in October.

There were four basketball teams from U.C. Two reached the finals, but St. Mike's took the championship. The U.C. Rose Bowl Tournament was won by the Jr.-Sr. A team. Four U.C. women played Intercollegiate basketball. The tennis tournament was quite successful.

Two able hockey teams were entered. Two volleyball teams unsuccessfully represented the college in their league. U. C. had one player on the All-Star Volleyball team, and one on the Intercollegiate hockey team.

Archery, new in our realm of sports, was a great success. Our swimming has improved. The badminton tournament was exciting, more women participating this year.

The U.C. Women's Athletic Association thanks the Pan-Hellenic Association for the donation of a silver trophy to be presented annually to the girl making the greatest contribution to U.C. sports during her undergraduate years.

The Association also thanks the Pan-Hellenic Alumnae Advisory Committee for the donation of a trophy case to house U.C. Women's athletic trophies.

The Athletic Banquet, in March, climaxed U.C. athletics, as the occasion for the presentation of trophies and crests.

Our aims were successful this year: to encourage more participation, and to provide enjoyment.

Victoria College Women's Athletic Union

FOR the first time in many years no intramural championships were won by Victoria College. But despite this fact, 1949-50 was one of the most successful years experienced by the V.C.W.A.U. In a year when student apathy seemed to dog the path of student societies, the group of those members of the athletic society which actually participated was appreciably enlarged.

Vic in every sport provided the keenest of opposition for the victors. In tennis she was a strong contender for the interfaculty trophy, as the selection of two Vic players for the Intercollegiate team testifies. This year again saw us defeated in the finals of the softball series by P. H. E. In basketball our six teams were much improved. In hockey, as in softball, P.H.E. edged out our team in a closely contested finals which was forced to go to three games, instead of the scheduled two. In badminton, volleyball, swimming, and bowling the Vic teams also exhibited the ability, fight and spirit which we hope characterize our teams.

Individual athletes brought fame to the College by their inclusion in Intercollegiate teams. We were represented on every intercollegiate team by girls whom we were proud to link with the name of Victoria.

This year marked an innovation which we hope shall be continued. This was a Women's Athletic Banquet. This affair which was attended by over one hundred and twenty girls was high-lighted by an inspiring address by Miss Rao, and by the presentation of over sixty athletic letters.

When all is said and done, 1949-50 was a highly successful year for women's athletics, and the executive, under the driving and capable leadership of Diane Rogers, may be assured that their hard work bore very satisfying fruit.

St. Hilda's College Athletic Society

THE athletics at St. Hilda's this year were characterized by a great deal of enthusiasm and participation.

In spite of the loss of such good players as Pat Cockburn and Jane Matthews, St. Hilda's made a fairly good showing in the University Tennis Tournament, with Marilyn Jones, Barb Allmond, Joy Clegg and Joyce Atkinson making up our tennis team. Barb Allmond made the Intercollegiate team and with her partner, Ev Aiken, won the University Doubles championship at London.

Baseball was enthusiastically, if not very successfully supported with three teams entered into competition with the other faculties. The first team deserves special recognition for their victory over the Trinity staff, thus copping the chocolate cake offered as a prize, our only baseball trophy of the season.

Both badminton and hockey were well supported as was volleyball. The basketball teams this year won no prizes but they showed promise.

Two of our St. Hildian's, Phyl Manning and Charlotte Chisholm, made the intercollegiate swimming team, and the Splash Party held for the rest of St. Hilda's was a great success.

Due to lack of snow, our skiing representative, Liz Ketchum, merely looked glum. She had had high hopes for a St. Hilda's skiing team.

This year has been a success only through the efforts and cooperation of the executive, the numerous coaches, and managers. Because of them, our sports outlook for next year is a very bright one.

Intercollegiate Football

IN one of the tightest intercollegiate football races in history, the Varsity Blues showed a complete reversal of form from the previous title-winning season. The Blues managed only two victories over the six game schedule, and dropped to last place in the four-team group.

Coach Bob Masterson had only a few members of his championship team on which to build the 1949 edition, and with Western, McGill and Queen's considerably stronger, the Blues found the going really tough. Varsity divided two games with Western and Queen's but lost both McGill games.

Despite a relatively poor season, three Bluemen were named to the intercollegiate all-star team. Middle Fraser Mustard and halfbacks Dick Brown and Bill Danylchuk were picked for the first team and end Jack Gray and halfback Bruce Cummings named to the second team.

The Varsity intermediate football team fared little better than the seniors, finishing third in the four team league. The intermediates were handicapped by the periodic loss of material to the senior team as Bob Masterson searched for a winning combination. Over the season, six intermediate stars were picked up by the Blues.

FALL TRAINING CAMP

Johnny Copp Memorial Trophy

FRASER Mustard, giant middle, wa named winner of the Johnny Copp Memorial Trophy. The trophy is presented annually to the member of the senior football team judged by his fellow players to be the most valuable member of the team, combining the utmost in sportsmanship and athletic ability.

Mustard played his third season with Varsity, was selected on the intercollegiate all-star team, and was an untiring performer.

Intercollegiate Hockey

IN his first season as senior hockey coach, Wally Halder fashioned a senior hockey team which gave Varsity fans plenty of exciting moments.

An inspired crew of battling rookies gave the title-holding University of Montreal plenty of trouble before bowing out to the experienced Carabins in the final game of the season.

Veteran captain Cec Turcott led the Blues to nine wins against three defeats in intercollegiate competition. The Blues were the only team to manage a victory over the high-flying Montrealers, and won all eight games against McGill and Queen's.

The Blues split two exhibition games against the University of Michigan, winning 4-2 and losing 2-1.

For the fourth consecutive season, the Varsity intermediates rolled to victory in the intercollegiate intermediate hockey league. The team finished with a 10-3 record.

Varsity's entry in the O.H.A. Junior B group finished out of the playoffs this year, after losing six stalwarts to the senior Blues early in the season.

Coach Bill Wade had the juniors battling hard all season, but they were nosed out of a playoff berth late in the season.

Intercollegiate Basketball

VARSITY'S senior basketball team gave Toronto fans little to cheer about this season, as the Bluemen finished last in the intercollegiate league, winning one while losing five. Varsity also had a winless record in 15 exhibition games, mostly with United States colleges.

Coach Bob Masterson had little veteran strength on which to build his senior hoop squad. The lone bright spot in the lineup was veteran Johnny McManus, who paced the Blues' scoring power all year and was selected on the senior intercollegiate all-star team.

Coach Masterson looks to next season to provide Varsity with a front-running basketball team. Several of the green kids of this season are expected to blossom into stars next year.

Using a rugged man-to-man defence, coupled with a set offence, Varsity's intermediate team enjoyed a relatively successful season, although finishing third in intercollegiate competition. Season record, including exhibition games, was 21 wins against seven defeats.

Varsity's junior team captured the Toronto and District junior championship to give Toronto its only basketball winner. The freshman team finished with a 27 won, three lost, record.

Intercollegiate Track

VARSITY made a clean sweep of intercollegiate track, winning both senior and intermediate titles.

Bill Farlinger led the senior team to victory in London, winning three events and setting a new intercollegiate record of 12 feet, 3¼ inches in the pole vault. Farlinger also won the high hurdles and the 220 low hurdles.

George Doull and Dunc Green were the other Varsity winners. Doull won the one mile race, while Green captured the three mile.

In the intermediate track meet at Varsity Stadium, Varsity captured nine firsts to roll to easy victory. It was the fourth consecutive track victory for Varsity since the end of the war.

Intercollegiate Harrier

VARSITY continued to dominate intercollegiate harrier as both senior and intermediate teams won the university competitions with ease.

In the senior race, staged at Barriefield, with Queen's as host, Toronto runners placed first, second, fourth, fifth and ninth. Little George Doull continued to dominate the intercollegiate field, finishing first, with George Webster, Dave Barr, Dunc Green and George McMullen running in the above order.

In the intermediate race in Hamilton, Varsity runners finished first, third, fourth, sixth and seventh.

Intercollegiate Swimming

VARSITY again found McGill's swimming team too strong and bowed 45-30 in the intercollegiate swimming meet in Montreal.

Bright spot from a Varsity standpoint was the performance of Doug Gibson, powerful first-year free-style swimmer, who set new intercollegiate marks in the 440 yards and 220 yards events. He also won a first place in the 100 yards free style.

Ken Tulley was another Varsity winner, capturing the intercollegiate diving title for the third successive year.

Varsity's intermediate swimming team competed in the intermediate meet at McMaster, but lost out to a powerful Western team.

Intercollegiate Water Polo

THE Herschorn Trophy for intercollegiate water polo supremacy seems to have found a permanent spot on the Hart House trophy shelf. Varsity won the water polo title again this season, defeating McGill two straight in home-and-home games.

Captain Phil Rosen and veteran Jim Crang were instrumental in Varsity's title triumphs. They led the Blues to a 6-2 victory in Montreal and a 10-5 win back in Toronto.

Intercollegiate Boxing

VARSITY'S boxing teams showed a complete reversal of form over last year and rolled to impressive victories in both senior and intermediate boxing competitions.

Tony Canzano had his mittmen in fine fettle for the title meets in Hart House. The senior team won six of eight fights, while the intermediates were winning four out of seven.

Only one of the six senior winners was a repeat performance. Hank Henshall, fiery little 125-pounder, won his division for the fourth consecutive year. Other Varsity winners were Glyn Williams, 133 pounds; Carl Leprich, 140 pounds; Roberto Couceiro, 147 pounds; Don Armstrong, 165 pounds; and Tim Turner, heavyweight.

Intercollegiate Wrestling

A strong senior team this year regained the intercollegiate wrestling championship lost to O.A.C. last year. The Morris Sobel-Jack Amos coached team won four of the eight divisions to edge O.A.C. 23 to 20. McGill scored nine points; Queen's two; and Western, one.

Jack Kirkup, in the 145 pound class, and Kirk Wipper, in the 165 pound, were repeat winners for Varsity. Other victorious Bluemen were Harry Lubbock, in the 125 pound division, and Bernie Shaver, in the 155 pound class.

The intermediate wrestlers grappled their way to easy victory in the intercollegiate intermediate meet. Varsity won six of the eight events to gain 33 points. Western was second with 10 points, O.A.C. third with nine.

Intercollegiate Skiing

LACK of snow through most of the early winter months handicapped training of Varsity's ski team, but despite this handicap, the team showed well in two college meets.

In the Canadian Intercollegiate Athletic Union meet at Toronto, Varsity placed fifth in the 10-college meet. Outstanding was the performance of Tommy Andresen, who won the jumping competition.

At the McGill winter carnival, the Bluemen found stiffer competition and managed only sixth place among the seven competing colleges from Canada and the United States.

In the latter meet, Odd Michaelsen finished 12th in the jumping competition, Perc Berg-Johannssen 10th in the cross-country and Bob Hutcheson 12th in the downhill-slalom.

Intercollegiate Soccer

VARSITY'S soccer teams continued their domination of intercollegiate soccer competition this year, winning both senior and intermediate titles.

Paced by playing-coach Brian Barton, the seniors won the coveted Blackwood Trophy for the 11th consecutive season, and was recognized in soccer circles as one of the finest aggregations ever to appear in intercollegiate competition.

As in the past, the Varsity team relied on many players from various Dominions in the British Empire—players brought up on the art of the British game. Particularly noteworthy of mention were the performances of Ted Evans, Erri Thompson, Bob Antoni and Alain Wyler.

Intercollegiate Gymnastics

GORDON Gibson won the individual championship for Varsity in the intercollegiate gymnastics meet in Toronto, but the Bluemen were edged 113 to 107 by McGill in team competition.

While the team lost the Caron Trophy, Gibson's performance brought home the Werry Trophy. He placed first in high bar and horse events and second on the mats. Another Toronto winner was Hugh Alexander, who tied for first place in the parallel bars event.

Intercollegiate Rugger

ONLY two universities, Varsity and McGill, have taken an active interest in English rugger through the post-war years, and the Blue team has had a decided edge in recent years.

Coached by Jack Gibbs, the Varsity rugger team trounced McGill in both games of the home and home series, winning 12-5 and 8-0. Captain Don Glen and vice-captain Tom Matsui played stellar roles in the two Varsity wins.

Intercollegiate Fencing

VARSITY'S senior fencing team again won the intercollegiate title, paced by Captain Mark Kellow, who placed second in the individual competition.

Much of the credit for Varsity's fine fencing showing must go to Coach Julius Alpar, the Hungarian Olympic Fencing Master.

The intermediate fencing team was less fortunate than the senior team, losing the intercollegiate title to O.A.C. Despite the team loss, Varsity captain, Jim McGougan, won the individual title.

Intercollegiate Tennis

THE senior intercollegiate tennis title was won by the University of Montreal, with Art Anderson and Len Turner, of Varsity, winning the doubles championship again.

Montreal won the title on the basis of victory in singles competition and total team points.

The intermediate tennis team, playing at McMaster University, won every match and is expected to form the nucleus of next season's senior team.

VARSITY'S golfers ran into a bad day at the senior intercollegiate tournament in Kingston and finished sixth in the seven-team competition. McGill captured the Ruttan Trophy, posting a low total score of 640 over the rain-soaked Cataraqui course.

The Blue foursome was well down with a total score of 700 for the 36 holes. Dave Greey and John Pavenel topped the Toronto golfers with 173 cards, while Hugh Watson and George Smalley posted 177's.

In the intermediate golf tournament at Guelph, Varsity tied for second place with O.A.C. over the 18-hole distance. McMaster rolled to a decisive win, with a team score of 323.

The Blue team, composed of Peter Pangman, George Cuthbertson, Bud Whittaker and Mike Winlo won the regatta at the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club against entries from Queen's and the Royal Military College.

Varsity's second sailing team journeyed to New London, Conn. to compete for the Danmark Trophy against 11 United States Colleges and McGill. While failing to win the trophy, the seconds administered a sound licking to McGill, the only other Canadian entry.

DURING the session 1949-50 the Intramural Athletic programme provided opportunity for University of Toronto students to play in almost one thousand games and twenty-seven meets and tournaments.

Out of this maze of competition the University College—Physical and Health Education combination emerged as "All Year Intramural High Point Champions" by virtue of their win in the T. A. Reed Trophy Race. In winning the trophy the recipients are to be congratulated on the all-round, balanced effort which they maintained throughout the year. For example, approximately 25% of their total was gained through U.C. and P.H.E. men participating on intercollegiate teams; the remainder was almost equally divided between points for entry and points for winning events, games, groups and championships. Also to be congratulated are Trinity and Victoria Colleges for finishing in second and third positions respectively.

The Intramural Sports Committee, composed of the athletic presidents of the competing colleges and faculties, deserves great credit for supplying the co-ordinating factor which made the efficient operation of the programme possible. The 1949-50 committee was one of the most competent in years. Chairman Jim Cunningham of Wycliffe College and his associates handled a difficult and diversified job in a more than capable manner.

That the participants appreciate the opportunities provided by the programme is indicated by the fact that once again all facilities were taxed to capacity.

The University of Toronto Athletic Association and the Department of Athletics and Physical Education are aware of the far reaching values which may be derived from the promotion of an intramural programme which provides wholesome physical recreation for a large percentage of the student body. The emphasis which is placed on intramurals at this University has paid dividends in the past and will continue to do so in the future.

University College Athletic Board

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE squads fared well in both track, field and basketball in the 1949-50 season. The Junior and Senior track teams were both at the top of their groups.

Of the four teams to reach the semi-finals in basketball, two were from U.C. The U.C. I's entered the finals against St. Mikes.

The U.C. football team had difficulty getting untracked, but did manage to tie Victoria College, who later went on to win the Mulock Cup. The U.C. I lacrosse team entered the finals against Meds and once again they had to be satisfied with runner-up position. U.C. also entered the Water Polo finals for a second consecutive year.

A great deal of credit is due the Athletic Board, which, under George Wallace, directed U.C. athletic activities throughout the year. The many teams and varied activities in U.C. sports life required an alert and competent executive such as George Wallace and his associates provided.

Victoria College Athletic Union

VICTORIA College has had one of its more successful years in intramural athletics. This fact is born out by the final Reed Trophy figures which place Vic in third place. This is the highest position ever reached by Victoria College in the history of the Reed Trophy competition.

The Mulock Cup is back in its rightful haven as the Vic gridders won the most coveted of all intramural trophies. They defeated Senior School in the finals in a game that was probably more thrilling than many of the intercollegiate games this year. The Senior Soccer Team gave an exhibition of real sportsmanship before losing in the semi-finals. The Vic I lacrosse team gave a good account of itself in playoffs. Both Senior and Junior hockey teams reached the semi-finals where the Seniors suffered from a lack of substitutes and the Juniors were denied. Basketball did not fare so well as only the Vic V's reached the playoffs in the major leagues though six of our nineteen minor-league teams were in playoffs.

The Vic Senior Track Team placed second in the intramural track meet with a Vic man carrying off the Cody Trophy. Vic won the Freshman Harrier this year and the Vic I water polo team did well in group 1. Finally, Vic boxers were finalists in intramural competition.

The Victoria College Athletic Union would like to take this opportunity to wish graduating Victoria athletes every success as they depart from the Little Vic playing field into the playing field of life.

Trinity College Athletic Association

IN a year that was marked by a definite falling-off of interest in many College and University organizations, the Athletic Executive was gratified to see that participation in its activities was better. Over half the Men of College took part in sport and the results of this participation were evident in the high standing Trinity maintained in the T. A. Reed Trophy race.

For the second year in a row the College won an Intramural Championship through the splendid efforts of its First Soccer Team. Undefeated throughout the season, the Team overcame Junior SPS in the finals to take the Arts Faculty Cup.

Though the football squad fared none too well, its members were almost entirely composed of Freshmen who should form a strong team next year. Once again there was the usual bustle in Track, Harrier, Lacrosse, Basketball, Wrestling, Boxing (an intramural Heavyweight title), Volleyball, Swimming, Waterpolo, Tennis, and Hockey. A word of praise should be given to the team Managers, who efficiently handled the less glorious but nonetheless important aspects of the athletic programme.

The Athletic Dinner was held in Strachan Hall in November and the Men of College were fortunate in having Dr. Griffiths, former Headmaster of Ridley College, as guest speaker. The evening was a complete success and a few weeks later was followed up by the ever popular Athletic Dance.

Although every active member of the Association deserves credit for his participation in and enthusiasm for the year's athletic programme, special praise must go to the President and the Manager of Athletics for their exceptionally good work.

Wycliffe College Athletic Association

PERHAPS the greatest achievement of the Wycliffe College Athletic Association of the year 1949-50 has been the supplying of first-class equipment to the various teams representing the College in inter-faculty sport. For the first time within a decade our teams have entered the field uniformly garbed and suitably equipped. This reform was largely due to the energetic efforts of our Athletic Association Executive, led by Mr. James Cunningham.

It is true that the Wycliffe "New Look" did not produce many group championships yet the teams were inspired to greater achievements. The water polo team splashed its way to a group championship and the soccer team tied for top honours in its group. Both the basketball and hockey teams revealed new talent and with more practice these teams will be top contenders in their respective groups next year.

Our executive for 1949-50 has pointed the way to greater things in Wycliffe athletics. May its successors follow this "goodly example".

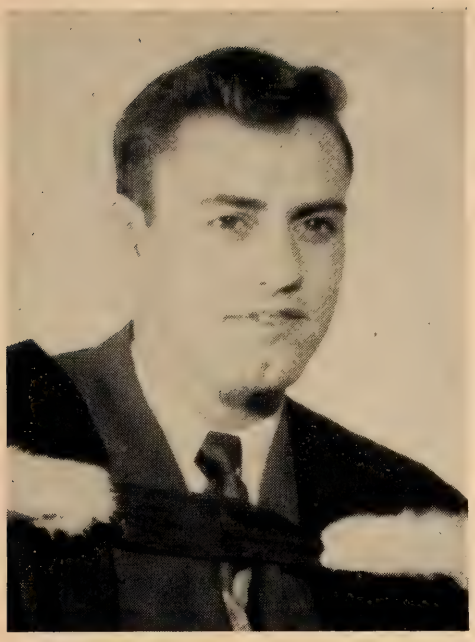
S.P.S. Athletic Association

THE focal point of the efforts of the Engineering Society Athletic Exec. was the recapture of the all-important Reed Trophy, which has for so many years not graced the S.P.S. Trophy cabinet. The boys really showed a capability for executive organization, and the body of athletic-minded Skulemen who competed in every sport so successfully did not let up the pressure on the foe of the moment for very long.

With all of Ajax in T.O. for the first time, the problem was to organize the 3000 odd Skulemen efficiently and effectively. The new facilities in the basement of the Engineering building proved a godsend for the centre of activities, with the large equipment storage space, and new clerking system.

The executive members themselves were fine leaders, but a great deal of the credit for Skule's achievements is due to the "sub-heads", the chaps who took over each sport and looked after all the myriad minute details of team selection, notification, and general direct leadership.

The final results of these intensified efforts are not known at the time of writing, but no matter who wins out in March, it has been a terrific year for Skule. We hope that succeeding executives and the mass of budding Engineers can improve on the showing in the years to come.

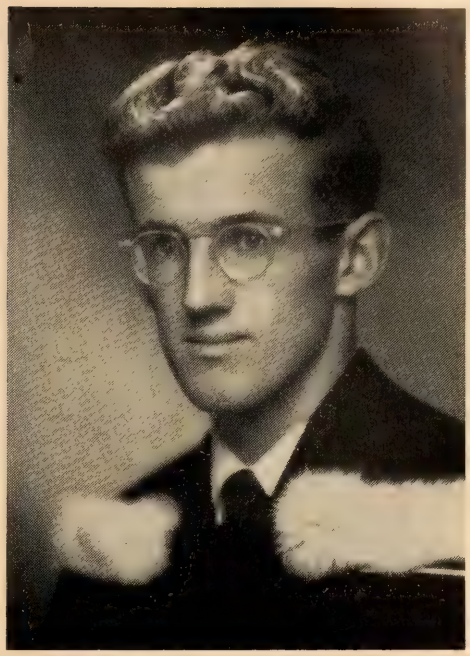


ROBERT ADARE

Phene Memorial Trophy

THIS lovely hunk of silver is awarded annually to the member of the Senior SPS Football team, (on a vote of his teammates) who contributes most by his sportsmanship and playing ability to the team.

The proud recipient for the 49-50 season is Bob "Flash" Adare, brilliant halfback with the Mulock Cup finalists. Bob was a ball of fire with the squad all year, using his exceptional speed (look at his track achievements) and deception to knife through opposing tacklers and reel off large gains around the end or off tackle. Though hit hard by his heavier opponents, Bob kept coming back time and again and had a large hand in helping the team into the finals against Vic. The boys on the squad, knowing his "college try" efforts so well, did not hesitate when the balloting time came around.



DAVID BARR

Bronze "S"

EVERY year one member of the graduating class is voted to the exalted position of holder of the Special Bronze S for his outstanding achievements in athletics, both for the faculty and the University. This is perhaps the highest award any Skule-type athlete can receive and Dave "Ditz" Barr is fully worthy of the honour.

Throughout his four years servitude under the Blue and White, Dave has amassed the fantastic sum of 85 points for athletics, in all forms of Track and Harrier both on the cinders and around the executive end of the job. He has been a star performer with the University Harrier squads in recent times, and led the SPS team to a very hotly contested second place in the indoor track meet at Hart House this season.

When his classmates went to the polls in February they made no mistakes about the location of the all-important X, with these pleasing results.

Architecture Athletics

NEW vigour has strengthened our teams this year, since first year, now in Toronto, has contributed many fine athletes.

The following teams participated in intramural athletics: basketball, hockey, water polo, volleyball, tennis, track, squash and swimming. Neither swimming nor volleyball showed much in the win department but increased participation was encouraging. The freshman swim team won the intramural championship. The hockey team showed increased strength over last year and soon found its winning stride. This year the School of Architecture has supported three basketball teams, two major and one minor. Each won its fair share of games. We were fortunate to retain practically the same water polo team, which fulfilled to a considerable degree its promise of last year.

The School has been admirably represented by Fred Dawes on the tennis courts, Mike Zuberec and Bruce Rawlinson in track and field.

Athletically, the School of Architecture is slowly finding its place on the campus, and it is to be hoped that this development will reach its culmination in the near future. ⚜

Medical Athletic Association

BY all pre-season dope, this should have been Meds' year for the T. A. Reed Trophy but when the final tally was made, they were in seventh place. With few exceptions the teams did not click often enough to bring home the silverware. In individual sports, Meds held up their end, especially early in the year.

It was the perennial winners who kept Meds in the Interfaculty picture. "Axe" Haliburton and the Meds I lacrosse team again fought off U.C. for their third consecutive Dafoe Cup title. The Victoria Staff Cup also remains in the faculty as 5T3 successfully defended their Inter-faculty volleyball laurels won last year. In water polo, Meds were in the fight until the end, being nosed out in the final by U.C.

This year's Athletic Stick has been awarded to E. D. Hubbard, this year's president of the M.A.A. Dery has been very active in both intercollegiate and interfaculty athletics throughout his university career. He was a member of Blues' swimming teams for four years, making the Senior squad in his final two years. Also in the Intercollegiate picture, Dery was a member of last year's senior water polo team. In interfaculty swimming, he was the driving force behind Meds for several years, many of the teams winning championships. As an athletic executive, Dery spent three years on the M.A.A., including a term as vice-president and this year as president. All those in Meds athletics wish Dery continued success as he moves on into the practice of medicine.

Dentistry Athletic Association

ANOTHER full year of athletics for dentistry has not produced championship teams, but has produced championship spirit. This, after all, is more important and Dentistry therefore had a successful year.

Special credit and congratulations are in store for the freshmen, the pre-dental year who easily walked away with the minor basketball championship. If their spirit and sportsmanship are maintained and spreads to the senior years, Dentistry will once more lead in athletics.

To those men who willingly gave of their time to participate in athletics, the directorate would like to say "thanks for a swell job". Special mention might be given to those who while not participating, came out to cheer their classmates on. To the quarter master, Gord Woolidge, who took a great load off the athletic director's shoulders goes a special thanks.

The retiring members of the Directorate would like to wish their successors the best of luck and many championships.

Forestry Athletic Association

THE Faculty of Forestry, which has been in the top three for the past three years in the quest for the T. A. Reed Trophy, is again attempting to capture this crown which has long eluded our grasp. Although we have never won this trophy, emblematic of student co-operation and spirit, our constant high position is a mark of which we can justly be proud.

Outstanding athletes representing Forestry on Senior Intercollegiate teams this past season have been, Archie Jones, football; George Doull, track and harrier; Wilf Digby, hockey; Hugh Peacock and Bill Maslem, water polo. In addition Jones was awarded the George M. Biggs Trophy for 1948-49 as the University's outstanding athlete.

The highlight in interfaculty competition this year was the green and white football team which won their group with six straight victories. They lost the semi-final to the Mulock Cup Winners, Victoria College, 19-11, after completely dominating the first half to lead 6-0. Lack of reserves led to eventual defeat.

First grade colours have been awarded this year to E. Anderson, R. H. Banks, E. K. Dreyer, W. Maslem, D. C. Mason, R. Patrick, A. C. Poole, E. Tamosetis.

Alpha Omega Alpha

ALPHA OMEGA ALPHA is a non-secret College Medical Honour Society, membership in which is based entirely on scholarship, moral qualifications being satisfactory. Undergraduate members are chosen from the final two years of the Medical Course.

Organized at the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois, in Chicago, on August 25th, 1902, by William W. Root, it is the only order of its kind in the Medical Schools of this continent.

The spirit of the Society is set forth in its motto, "To be worthy to serve the suffering"; and in a modern interpretation of the Hippocratic Oath. It is the duty of its members to promote its ideals and to foster the scientific and philosophic features of the Medical Profession and to look beyond self to the welfare of the profession and public. It is also their duty to cultivate social mindedness as well as an individualistic attitude toward responsibilities; to show respect for their colleagues, elders and teachers; to foster research; and in all ways strive to enrich and ennoble the profession of Medicine.

Delta Chi

DELTA CHI is a fraternity made international by the Osgoode Hall Chapter. Numbering 44 chapters throughout the United States, the Fraternity has developed greatly since its founding at Cornell University on October 15, 1890.

Originally strictly in the legal field, Delta Chi yielded to the pressure of other professional groups and in 1923 became a general social fraternity. It was at this time that Delta Chi abolished the so-called "hell-week" of fraternity pledging, being the first international fraternity to do so.

The Osgoode Chapter was chartered on Feb. 13, 1897. At the present time there are 44 active brothers including 16 men who were initiated this year. While drawing its members from all groups, it still maintains its legal flavor, the majority of its actives being graduates studying at Osgoode Hall. An attempt is made to balance the interests of all faculties, thus providing valuable cultured experience for all the members.

A well-organized social life tempers the strictly academic atmosphere of the Chapter. Informal parties are held every Saturday night. Highlights among the special events are the Founders' Day Banquet on Oct. 15, the Santa Claus party for children, an elegant Christmas party, the Delta Chi Formal, a series of Alumni Teas for actives and friends and the Anniversary Dinner.

This year Delta Chi entered the Inter-Fraternity Council for the first time. We look forward to an active participation with other groups in our pursuit of those things which make our professional and fraternal life worth while.

Delta Gamma

THIS was another successful year for the Alpha Gamma chapter of Delta Gamma. The big project of the year was the Anchor Ball held at the Royal York Hotel. Members worked hard selling tickets and making decorations to make the dance a success.

Again this year members of Delta Gamma took an active part in campus affairs. Those holding offices on the W.U.A. were, Jane Ratz, President of the W.U.A., Joan Irwin, Literary Director, Patricia Scott, Secretary, and Zaira Murray, Third Year President. Barbara Foreman was the secretary of the Physiotherapy Undergraduate Association. Active members of I.S.S. were Zaira Murray, Jane Findlay, Barbara Redfern, Margaret Milner, and Joanne Stoddart. Evelyn Howden took part in the Follies and Ross Creelman and Margaret Milner assisted in make-up. Mollie Doran was in the All-Varsity Review and Jane Findlay assisted in make-up. Joan and Jean Irwin sang in U.C.'s presentation of the Red Mill (Victor Herbert). Joanne Stoddart was an Assistant Editor on the Undergrad and Patty Scott was art editor. Others took part in sports and attended various clubs on the campus. Once again Delta Gamma congratulates itself on the wholehearted participation of its members in worthwhile activities on and off the campus.

And those who are graduating will not forget the responsibilities they have assumed and the lasting friendships they have made during their four years as members of Delta Gamma.

Delta Tau Delta

DELTA TAU DELTA was founded in 1858, a pioneer of the extensive present day system of fraternities. The fraternity exists to enrich university life through the companionship of congenial friends with common interests, and with all faculties represented.

Social functions are organized to provide entertainment; post-football parties, formals, etc. These however dwindle to a regrettable obscurity after Xmas. (One must pass you know.)

We are proud of our members. Among them this year are a great number of outstanding students. Bob "I hate athletes" Fahrig, a real tough mining engineer, walked off with the Kennacott scholarship last year. Bob is the grand old man of the fraternity; must be at least 38. The baby is Pfelps Bell, an aspiring pianist. Carne Bray (bull fiddle) and Murray Legge (trumpet) are also musicians but what sets them apart from Pfelps is the fact that they get paid. The BLUES were represented by Big Bill Scott who played centre, fumbled the ball occasionally but put up a pretty fair show. Jack Pulford, Brent Rowe and Derty Berty Bethune will be remembered for their cavorting in Skule Nite. Nor can we forget the excellent leadership afforded the Lady Godiva Memorial Band by Thomas Hormone Kenny, our penny snatching treasurer.

By and large we are enjoying one of our finest years and are honoured and proud to be a small part of the life at the University of Toronto.

Lambda Chi Alpha

THE Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity was founded at Boston University in 1909. Since that time Lambda Chi Alpha has grown to be one of the foremost International Fraternities. It is represented at 130 colleges including Canadian Chapters in Alberta, Toronto, British Columbia, and McGill. The Chapter on this campus, Epsilon-Epsilon, was established in 1927 from a local Fraternity, Alpha Epsilon, founded in 1916.

The Chapter has always been active on the campus and this year many members are on the executives of various University organizations. Athletics are well represented in the House and the Alumni roll contains many holders of Varsity "T's".

The most widely known of the Chapter's social functions is the Sweetheart Rally. This is a traditional occasion on which the Chapter selects a Sweetheart and performs a crowning ceremony in front of the Chapter House after the Toronto-Western football game. Needless to say, at each ceremony "a grand time is had by all".

Participation in activities of the Inter-Fraternity Council plays a large part in the Chapter life. The House is well represented in the Council sports league as we "do or die for Lambda Chi".

It is to be noted that the House is now completely owned by the Chapter and plans for an expansion of facilities are on the blue-prints . . . so look to Lambda Chi for bigger things in the coming years.

Psi Upsilon

FOUNDED—UNION COLLEGE, 1833
UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO, 1920

IN 1900 a group of students at the University of Toronto banded together in a local fraternity, the Chi Delta Psi, with the hope of eventually obtaining a charter from the then well established Psi Upsilon Fraternity. Disregarding other offers of international affiliation, the members of Chi Delta Psi persisted in their quest until, after twenty years, the fraternity became the Nu Chapter of Psi Upsilon. Since the granting of the charter, the chapter has actively represented Psi Upsilon on the University of Toronto campus. The undergraduate brothers look with pride at the achievements and service rendered to our country and University by the graduate brothers of Psi Upsilon.

Sigma Nu

AFTER twenty-seven years of successful operation as an independent fraternity under the name of Kappa Rho Tau, this group last year became associated with one of the larger college fraternal organizations, when it became affiliated with Sigma Nu. The pictures on this page are indicative of the variety of activities and the wholesome good-fellowship which are enjoyed by the forty-eight active undergraduate members of our organization and their friends at the Chapter House, 506 Huron Street.

TEAM WORK

In the history of human endeavour the chapters of greatest renown have been written through the efforts of team work.

From the proud growth of the ancient Grecian culture through the struggles of the Renaissance to the hopeful birth of the United Nations, men have found that working in harmony has produced lasting benefits of inestimable value.

In this age, more than ever before, we believe team work to be man's most potent force for worthy accomplishment.
